

DEATH TAKES COOLIDGE'S SON

VALIANT FIGHT AGAINST SEPTIC POISONING FAILS

Parents at Side as End Comes.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—[Special.]—Calvin Coolidge Jr., second son of the President, died at 10:30 o'clock (eastern standard time) tonight. The President's boy passed away after a long and valiant fight against septic poisoning which had been raging since he was 15 years old. He was the youngest child of the President and his wife, and his death was a great loss to the family.

Death came quietly after a long period of unconsciousness which had been continuing since the boy was 15 years old. He was the youngest child of the President and his wife, and his death was a great loss to the family.

The boy had not volunteered a word since early in the morning. That was a parting from his parents as they left him for a last look. Good night, mother and father, he whispered. "Good night," they replied. They went out with that word of good night, the first word in hours and one that strengthened their courage and made them hope. But the improved condition which enabled young Calvin to speak those words was short-lived.

Parents Watch at Bedside. President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge sat at the bedside as the last breath was taken. During the time when life was just a matter of minutes, the President frequently stroked the hand of his youngest child, frequently gazed closely at the closed eyes as if praying that they might open, if only for a moment. But it was not to be. They and the doctors were the only ones present.

The boy had not volunteered a word since early in the morning. That was a parting from his parents as they left him for a last look. Good night, mother and father, he whispered. "Good night," they replied. They went out with that word of good night, the first word in hours and one that strengthened their courage and made them hope. But the improved condition which enabled young Calvin to speak those words was short-lived.

At noon today stomach gas complications set in, showing that the poison was nearing the vital organs. Frequent washings of the stomach, were made, saline solutions were pumped into the veins to strengthen the blood, a second blood transfusion was administered. They only served to keep the spark of life aglow a bit longer.

The President and his wife left the hospital a few minutes after the death. They walked into the White House together, each looking straight ahead, their heads held bravely high. They also had fought a valiant struggle, for as they watched their boy for four days slowly reaching the end they had to keep smiling lest their sadness affect him in his conscious moments.

Word of the death came to the White House within a few minutes after the last breath. A white light flashed on the switchboard, an operator answered, and then with head down turned to his waiting comrades—White House attendants. In one word he told it all. "Gone" was all he said.

Brother at White House. Calvin's brother John—with whom he was playing tennis when he got the fatal illness—was sitting patiently in the White House when death came at the hospital. When there was no longer hope it had been arranged to send for John. But in the agitation as Calvin passed away John was forgotten. He still was waiting to go to the hospital when the word came that it was too late.

The body will be brought to the White House tomorrow, which will be a day of public mourning in Washington with all government offices closed. The funeral will be a private and quiet one, but details have not been completed. The President has always avoided ostentation for his children—he even avoided giving out details of the illness—and there will be nothing of a state funeral. It will be just Calvin Coolidge and his wife, Mrs. Coolidge, and their friends.

Police Apparent Wednesday. In the terms of the physicians, the specific form of poisoning was septic poisoning. It had started in the bladder at the top of the right leg, spread downward through the leg and down the left leg, some of it settling in the left foot. The poison began its work when Wednesday—Calvin had been to a ball game Tuesday with no ill effects. Wednesday it became serious. Friday Dr. John Deaver of Philadelphia was called. On Saturday Dr. John Kolmer of Philadelphia was called and the boy taken to Walter Reed hospital. There five doctors were in constant attendance day and night. Saturday night was an operation to drain the poison from the bone. From then on the boy's condition grew steadily worse. Yesterday, attendance at the bedside was Jackson.

COLLINS OPENS WAR ON SPEED; 20 MILE LIMIT

Every Cop Ordered Into Campaign.

BEWARE!

Here is the new speed table, violation of which will lead to arrest: 20 miles an hour in sparsely settled districts.

15 miles an hour in built-up residential districts.

10 miles an hour in congested districts.

10 miles an hour over street car tracks.

8 miles an hour when turning corners.

Speeding days are past. No longer will the police recognize the hallowed "written law," which put the speed limit at "somewhere below thirty-five miles an hour." Twenty miles an hour is the maximum—those who drive faster will be arrested and taken to police station.

This was the order, effective today, which went from Chief of Police Collins.

Collins said that he was not going to let any one of his commanding officers. Today every policeman in the city is instructed to see that motorists live up to the "very letter of the speed laws."

Will Zone City.

So that there may be no chance that his orders are not strictly enforced, Chief Collins announced he personally will direct the police safety drive. Districts are to be zoned and speed limits fixed throughout the city. Police-men who fail to suppress speeding on their beats will be suspended, the chief said.

Copies of the state speed laws were included in which the details of a well defined plot were explained in George Peck, who until his arrest Saturday while in the act of picking up a decoy package left according to directions, was hired as a milkman by Wright. Peck now is on a hunger strike.

Only Messenger, He Says.

"Peck denied he had any part in the plot; other than being sent to a certain spot to pick up the package of money left by agents of Senator McCormick. He said he was innocent of any actual participation in the writing of the extortion letter, demanding the money and said that was taken care of by Wright.

When confronted with his former employer's statement, Wright stoutly maintained his innocence.

Wright was released on bonds of $5,000 until the formal hearing on the charges before a Rockford judge on Thursday.

Peck asserts he and Wright were in the latter's millinery barn talking about the money when the latter, who was hired by Mrs. McCormick, whose husband was at the time en route to Europe. It was after the receipt of a letter demanding the money in old bills. The letter was written in language similar to that employed by Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Louis in their plot which ended in the murder of Bobby Frank.

With Wright at the time of his arrest was Peck's son, Clarence, who has been held in the Rockford jail since.

Two More Deaths.

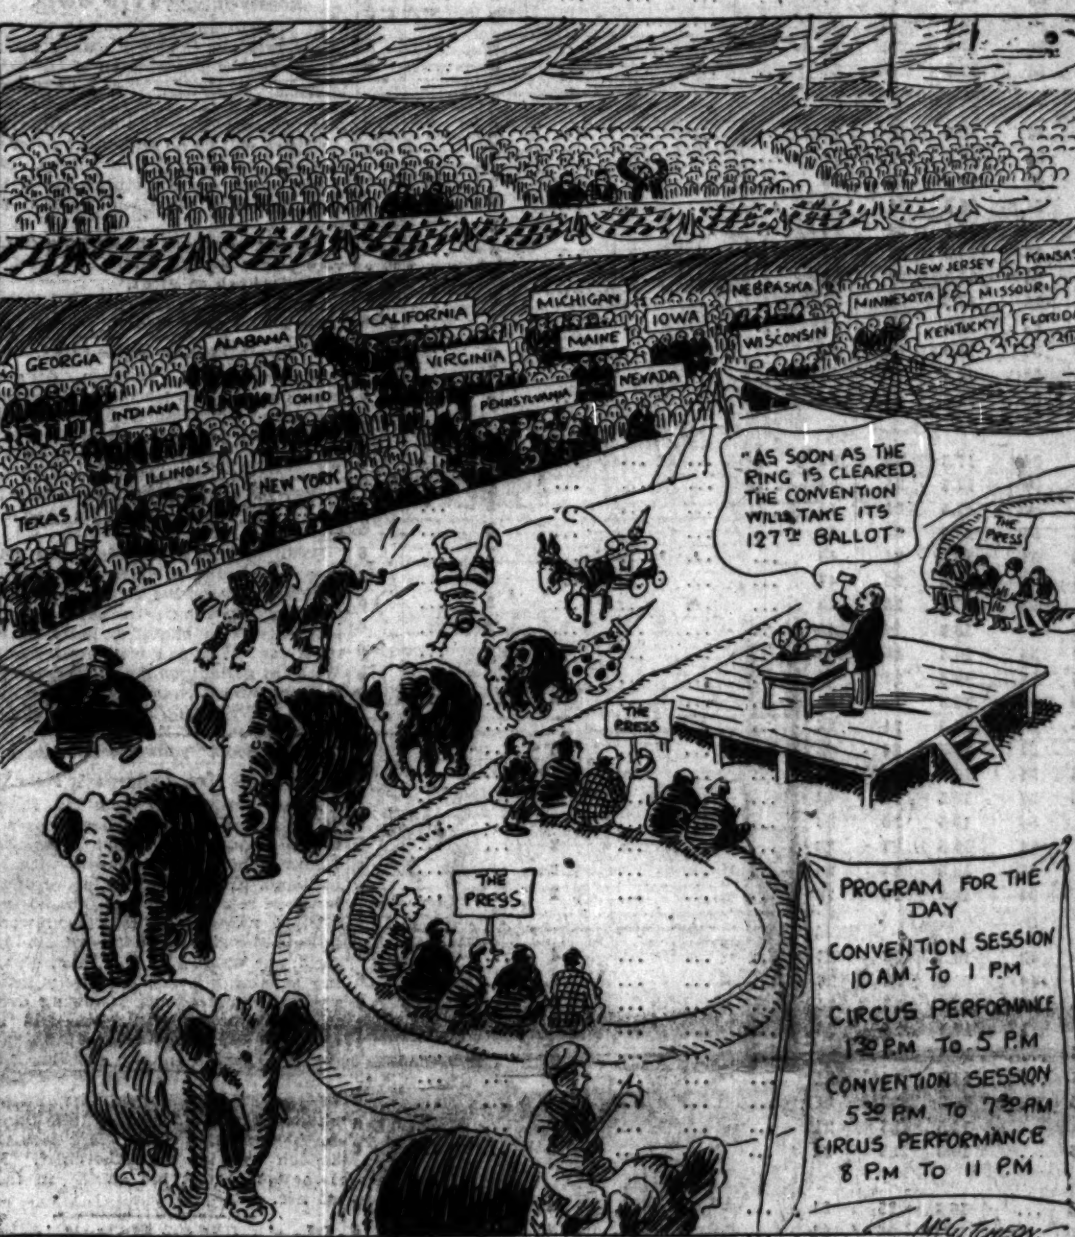

Two more deaths yesterday, one that of a little girl, raised the country's motor death toll since Jan. 1 to a total of 323. The death rate has been mounting steadily since May 1, there having been 153 victims in the sixty-eight days since, an average of seven deaths every three days—better than a day.

HANDS OF DEATH

Joseph Pickle Lives

His Name in Cicero

Joseph Pickle, 2418 Turner avenue, was so well picked last Sunday that the Cicero police had him bottled in an ambulance and were about to park him at an undertaker's when he started mumbling something about "needle beer" and other varieties. The patrol wagon changed its course and hustled him to the police station. He was found in the bribe at the corner of 56th avenue and 25th street, Cicero, after the police had received a telephone call that a dead man was lying in the street. He was freed by Judge Henry J. Sandusky.

to-thirds. Having lost his McAdoo can no longer preservation of another.
Smith went ahead of McAdoo for the first time in the eighty-sixth ballot and the circumstances were signalized by a tremendous demonstration by the worshipers of the popular jockeying the garden. His highest vote was 383 on the eighty-sixth ballot.

Pick Rock Horse Today.
Smith enthusiasts are confident the New York governor's point of view will be nominated at the end of a great drive for him tomorrow, but the big leaders entertain no illusions on this point.
They do not contemplate the nomination of Smith, but they look for his withdrawal tomorrow and support of a dark horse.

Tazewell directed a drive for Senator Rialson of Indiana, tonight which netted the candidate 93 votes on the last roll call and leaves him among the dark horses to receive consideration tomorrow. Brennan is awaiting the withdrawal of Smith before attempting to effect a compromise on Senator Robinson. Friends of John W. Davis and Gov. Ritchie of Maryland are standing by to take advantage of any opportunity promising a chance for either of the dark horses.

Backward Changes to Hope.
David Land Rockwell, McAdoo manager, refused to concede that the reversal of his candidate during the day spell defeat.
"It's only a temporary slip," he said. "We'll start climbing back in the morning. It's happened before.
This convention is not for Gov. Smith and the delegates will begin coming back tomorrow morning. This slipping is nothing new to us. It has happened before several times and each time we have regained our ground."

New Compromise Proposed.
After the last roll call Senator
Jones of New Mexico brought forward a new proposal for breaking the deadlock which he asked the delegates to study overnight and to vote on it when the convention reassembles in the morning. His resolution was that a conference committee be created composed of one member of each delegation. Each member shall have as many votes in the conference as his delegation has in the convention. This conference committee would meet and consider the candidates and endeavor to reach an agreement on a nominee to recommend to the convention.
This body will be the convention in miniature, the voting power being weighed by fifty-four instead of 1,098 delegates.

Senator Jones' idea is that the smaller body would be more likely to reach an agreement more speedily than the large one. He made an impressive appeal for acceptance of his plan, that the party might speedily be relieved of the embarrassments by which it is impeded.

How They Slipped from McAdoo.
McAdoo lost heavily throughout the balloting tonight. Indiana returned to Rialson after voting twice for McAdoo for several days. Michigan gave twenty to Rialson and Michigan contributed twenty more to the Hooper on the eighty-fourth ballot.
McAdoo on that roll went down to 383.

On the next ballot Iowa was revealed as trembling in its allegiance to McAdoo but finally stuck to him on that roll call. On the eighty-sixth ballot, however, Iowa broke away from McAdoo and gave its vote to Rialson for former Secretary of Agriculture Meredith. Kansas was pulled out by Smith, but on the roll call its division was reversed and the entire state unit was switched from McAdoo to Gov. Jonathan Davis. That brought McAdoo to his low point.

The features of the day session were the steady slipping of McAdoo down the tabular slide and the various attempts made to jar the deadlock, including at last the adoption of the resolution declaring delegates released from their instructions, which, however, produced no immediate change in the situation.

Cox Takes Revue Role.
When the convention reassembled at 11 a. m. after the Sunday recess and fruitless efforts to negotiate an agreement to break the deadlock James M.
Cox of Ohio, reminding his fellow Jeffersonians that he is still the titular leader of the party, was on the scene to try his hand at saving Democracy in its hour of peril.

"I have come to New York," said Mr. Cox. "At the urgent request of prominent members of the party, who have expressed to me the belief that a trying emergency has arisen and that the offices of the titular leader of the Democracy should be extended, with a view to bringing harmony."
"At the outset let it be understood that not only am I not a candidate, but I will not accept the nomination if tendered me. I do not believe I can be of any service, but my sense of gratitude and duty tells me that I should try."

It is unnecessary to elaborate upon the need of an agreement between the delegates. Nothing will be gained by going into events or conditions that have come and gone since the convention assembled. I am not here for or against any candidate, but am simply seeking to initiate and develop a purely Democratic and non-partisan view out of which will come both an American and a Democratic president."

Harmony? Committee Reports.
Mr. Cox became extremely busy con-fering with one group after another back of the platform and during the recess he sat in several conferences at the Waldorf-Astoria, but up to a late hour tonight it was not believed that he had influenced the situation appreciably.

The calling of the roll throughout the day session was varied by the attempts to break the deadlock. When the convention met Representative Hall, chairman of the national committee, reported from the harmony committee the McAdoo and anti-McAdoo proposals for ending the impasse, upon neither of which it had been possible to effect an harmonious agreement.
These proposals were laid before the convention by the harmony committee without recommendation as to action thereon.

A motion was made from the floor to refer the diverse proposals of the warring factions to the rules committee, but it was voted down. A little while later a motion was made to eliminate from the contest all but the two highest candidates but that likewise was voted down and the roll calling proceeded.

Roll Call Becomes Tame.
Changes of votes that a few days ago would have precipitated uproar-ous and protracted demonstrations for the beneficiaries thereof today elicited scarcely a ripple or applause.
McAdoo and Smith started the day's balloting at about where the last roll call Saturday afternoon left them.
But on the eighty-sixth roll call McAdoo received a hard blow.

After the eighty-second ballot the moment was deemed propitious to make another try at crushing the deadlock. Former Gov. Gilchrist of North Carolina, moved for the suspension of the rules and adoption of a resolution declaring it the sense of the convention that the time had come to release all delegates from all instructions and all pledges to all candidates whatsoever.

This was the proposal of Smith and the favorite to continue made by McAdoo. It was the proposal in accord with which, despite its rejection by McAdoo, Smith and the favorite some had declared their delegates released and at liberty to vote for McAdoo or any other candidate if they so desired.

Moves Release of Delegates.
The convention had reassembled with the release of their delegates, the only tangible change in the situation since Saturday, but the early balloting of the day had demonstrated that such changes as had occurred were not directly traceable to release from instructions. The principal losses were being suffered by McAdoo, who had refused to release his delegates, while Smith and anti-McAdoo candidates in the anti-McAdoo faction who had released their delegates were gaining strength.

From the McAdoo home delegation,
California, came a point of order against the proposal, which was overruled, but later California voted in favor of it. The McAdoo delegation from Georgia voted against it. The Texas delegation, also for McAdoo, voted for it.

FOES CUT AWAY AT M'ADOO TREE IN 18TH SESSION

Each Ballot Shows a Few More Branches Gone.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
The Democratic Convention Bureau, New York, July 7.—[Special.]—The eighteenth session of the Democratic convention is just a story of plain hard work, under conditions far from ideal. A muggy heat, blinding lights, peevish crowds, nothing but cutting away at the McAdoo tree with keen knives, taking a vote here and there, now whacking away with a full delegation in a blow that made the tree tremble.

The delegates came to the session with the feeling that something was about to happen. It did not turn out in the way they had expected. The "break" did not come, but perhaps under the monotonous storm of the ballots experts may read one day the beginning of the end of the famous deadlock.

Hawaiian Song Brings Peace.
A sextette of Hawaiian gentlemen in light black coats and festive wreaths, sang of far away scenes and lovely women and brought a momentary peace to jangled nerves. A clergyman prayed that the ambitions of men might be quieted in the interests of "successful achievement" and that God might aid in clearing up the deadlock. It did not seem to do any good, for the first ballot brought the familiar groan—"Alabama—twenty-four votes for Underwood."

The Underwood camp seemed particularly peppy this evening, seeing how in the disintegration of the McAdoo forces.

Neither had Senator Joe Robinson lost hope, nor Salsburg, nor Gov. Ritchie.

The beginning of the new and much advertised Ralston boom came in Florida, where two votes were cast for Uncle Samuel. Illinois gave him two more. Indiana plunked down a magnificent 30. Michigan caused a ripple by giving Ralston 27 more.

J. Ham Lewis Chairman.
Iowa was plainly getting nervous but was not ready to do anything on the opening ballot tonight. James Hamilton Lewis took the chair for a few minutes and announced in his unruffled manner and with distinction the poll of Nebraska. This was Smith 3, McAdoo 6, Bryan 7.

Mississippi helped Tom Taggart along by giving Ralston 20 votes on this ballot. Nevada caused the first excitement of the evening by switching to Gov. Smith with her six votes.

Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo in her flag draped box of royal prominence over the arena was then forced to witness the unpleasant sight of a Smith demonstration. Led by Massachusetts and a girl carrying a huge American flag, the Smith contingents did their best to stir things up, but they were rather lathered Smith gallery. It was pretty good for a hot night, but did not last long.

Split Votes.
The Philippine islands delegates began to get nervous and jumped off the fence for the first time. Two of them went for Senator Glass. The other four split evenly between Smith and McAdoo. They are not sure yet what is going to happen, but they are getting ready.

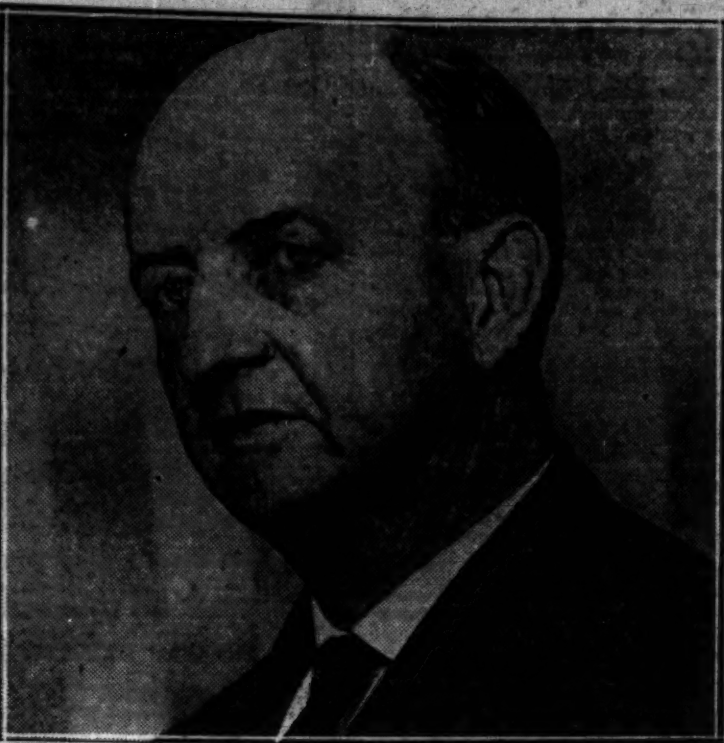

Ohio added the new Ralston drive with 13 votes.

On the eighty-fifth ballot George Brennan had given Ralston five Illinois votes. New Hampshire went solidly for Norton D. Baker. North Carolina and Pennsylvania increased the John M. Davis vote. On this ballot Ralston reached 37 votes and McAdoo went down to 310's.

The eighty-sixth ballot saw the expected Iowa break. "Twenty-six votes for that sterling Democrat, Edwin T. Meredith," came the announcement from that state.

Nevada caused a stir in the Maryland delegation by flopping to Ritchie.

HEADS THE LA FOLLETTE FIGHT

John M. Nelson, representative from Wisconsin and campaign manager for "Fighting Bob" La Follette, arrived in Chicago yesterday to take charge of the senator's independent fight for President. He plans a militant part in the drive to seat his candidate in the White House. (TRIBUNE PHOTO.)

Ohio and New Hampshire increased the Ralston vote a trifle.

Kansas began to get nervous. It was polled, with this result: McAdoo 9 and Gov. Jonathan Davis 8. Under the unit rule the state was recorded in full for McAdoo.

Commissioner of Police Enright appeared on the platform and was cheered when he took the gavel to announce the result of the eighty-sixth.

This was the ballot in which McAdoo dropped below Smith for the first time. Mr. Enright wanted to impress the convention with that fact and stopped when he had called out "McAdoo 333½—Smith 366."

It was an invitation which the galleries took up with a terrific roar. A look of consternation came upon the faces of the Texas and Georgia delegates as they sat under this onslaught. The Georgia standard was decorated with a scarlet wreath, which, it was suggested, they might use for McAdoo's political grave.

West Deserving McAdoo.
Kansas took another poll and this time found only 84 votes for McAdoo and 382 for Gov. Davis, thus taking the state from McAdoo, probably finally. Thus with Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma, Missouri and Nevada breaking away from McAdoo his boasted appeal to the west began to show a decided weakness.

There was a hush as the 87th ballot showed McAdoo below his veto strength and below Smith. It seemed as though the convention was officially at a funeral. The applause was stopped quickly.

Senator Jones of New Mexico was given the platform to explain a resolution which he had prepared in the hope of ending the deadlock. He said that he would not ask for action until morning.

"We are now at the close of the fourteenth day since we assembled here," he said.

"It is needless for me to suggest that every one is anxious that the deliberations be brought to a close. Without being requested by any candidate, but after consultation with many delegates, representing every candidate, I am constrained to offer a resolution which in my humble judgment may bring an amicable adjustment of a very unpleasant predicament."

Suggests Delegates Confer.
The speaker's voice suggested tears and more of the funeral atmosphere.

"In counsel there is wisdom," he continued. "We have had a conference of representatives of candidates which seems not to have brought a favorable result. My proposal is a conference of delegates."

He then, in his well known tremulous, read his resolution, which calls for a committee of one member from each delegation to meet in "solemn, prayerful counsel," to consider a combination of candidates for President and Vice President.

He would give each delegate the voting power of his state in the convention, thus forming a miniature convention, which could sit around a table and talk outside the influence of galleries and in comfort, perhaps seclusion.

Death of Calvin Jr. announced.
After announcing the last ballot Chairman Walsh announced "with profound grief" the death of Calvin Coolidge Jr. at 10:25 o'clock standard time and entertained a motion that the convention adjourn as a mark of sympathy for the bereaved family. In a hurried speech, the convention heard this announcement and then stopped work for the night.

Twice during the afternoon the proceedings were interrupted to express sympathy to President and Mrs. Coolidge and to receive word from the White House. Delegates and galleries joined in applause when the message from the President was read. This was, of course, before the boy's release which led to his death. The message said:

The gracious act of the Democratic national convention in tendering to Mrs. Coolidge and myself its sympathy in the illness of our son is profoundly appreciated. I wish you would express to the convention our deepest gratitude."

MUSOLINI RULE NOW MENACED BY FASCIST CHIEFS
ROME, July 7.—Considerable importance is attached to the first meeting of the new Italian cabinet tomorrow in view of the fact that during the last few days the internal situation has given signs of becoming more difficult.

The factors of the situation which are causing Premier Mussolini worry are the intensive, merciless criticism of the government on the part of the opposition, especially the Socialists, and the restlessness noted among the provincial elements, including many of the leaders of the Fascist extremists.

The leaders fear the loss of their great power in various provinces during the normalization process.

The Socialist paper Avanti has attacked a reward for Deputy Matteotti's body or information to show that it was destroyed.

LA FOLLETTE'S CHIEF OF STAFF BIVOUACS HERE

Nelson Explains Campaign of Badger Senator.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.
Representative John M. Nelson of Madison, Wis., insurgent leader of the lower house of congress, arrived in Chicago yesterday to take charge of the La Follette headquarters. He will be manager in chief of "Fighting Bob's" independent campaign for President.

While the Wisconsin senator's own campaign will be conducted along independent lines with the support of Socialists, Farmer-Laborites, free lance "progressives," old party rebels, some of the labor organizations, and other dissatisfied elements, Mr. Nelson made it plain that the La Follette forces plan to take a militant part in the congressional elections next fall.

Back Real Liberals.
"We expect to support progressive irrespective of parties," he said. "We intend, insofar as possible, to avoid taking on the burdens of any state, legislative or county candidates. On these we will make no endorsements unless we are forced to it."

"But we are much interested in maintaining our balance of power in both houses of congress."

Here Mr. Nelson switched to the real purpose of the La Follette campaign—to throw the election of the next President into congress if La Follette cannot win a majority of the electoral college.

"We can't lose," he said. "It is within the range of possibility that we can win. We are bound to hold the balance of power in the house and senate."

Aim at Fallen Ideals.
Occupants of high places who have been discredited in the public eye will be frequent targets of La Follette during the campaign.

La Follette himself and other orators who plan to take the stump for him are looking up to him for leadership. Mr. Nelson told the press that he had named Fall, Daugherty, and Jess Smith.

Two of La Follette's stump speakers were here yesterday. One, his son Philip, arrived with Mr. Nelson. The other, Senator Hendrick Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite of Minnesota, passed through the city on his way to his home. All came direct from the "conference for progressive political action" at Cleveland, where La Follette's candidacy was endorsed.

"We intend to weld together a mighty force to fight corruption," said Congressman Nelson.

Calls Minnesota Bob's.
Senator Shipstead said he expects La Follette to win the twelve electoral votes of Minnesota easily with the Farmer-Labor support he will receive in that state. Senator Shipstead said that the city on his way to his home. All came direct from the "conference for progressive political action" at Cleveland, where La Follette's candidacy was endorsed.

"They used to tell the working man he had nothing to lose but his chains," he said. "Well, the farmers have some things, including silver, phonographs, and radio sets."

It is not the system of government, but the way it is handled that is wrong, he said.

Seek Permanent Offices.
The La Follette campaign chief devoted most of his time yesterday to the location of permanent national headquarters. These probably will be either at the Auditorium or the Great Northern hotel. Temporary headquarters were here yesterday.

SEEK "MORE OR LESS OF A DEMOCRAT" FOR LA FOLLETTE'S MATE

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Senator La Follette, endorsed as a presidential candidate by the Progressive National conference, was in conference from time to time at his home today with leaders who attended the Cleveland gathering, but made no public statement.

There were several problems to be considered, among them the type of the vice presidential candidate for running mate of the senator, and the method of getting electors upon tickets in various states.

R. M. La Follette, Jr., who read his father's acceptance address to the Cleveland gathering, said it was unlikely that public statements would be made upon the campaign plans at present.

The Cleveland convention authorized a committee to consult with Senator La Follette on a vice presidential candidate. It is considered most likely that the second place will be taken by some individual who has been more or less identified with the Democratic party in national affairs.

Branch headquarters will be established soon in New York, Mr. Nelson added.

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, is expected back at headquarters next Friday after three weeks in the east, a large part of which was spent at the White House. William V. Hodges of Colorado, treasurer of the national committee, arrived yesterday to stay until the end of the campaign.

GARMENT STRIKE OF 500,000 IS AVERTED BY PACT
New York, July 7.—The Merchants' Ladies' Garment association voted tonight to agree to the demands of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, which were approved by Gov. Smith's arbitration commission.

The agreement was a complete surprise to union officials, who had made preparations for a walkout of 500,000 workers tomorrow.

The agreement grants the closed shop, unemployment insurance and a minimum wage scale.

SLEMP BACK AT WHITE HOUSE AFTER 3 WEEKS
Washington, D. C., July 7.—C. Bacon Slemp, secretary to the President, returned to his office today after an absence of three weeks. Mr. Slemp, who left here immediately after the Cleveland convention, where he is known to have disagreed considerably with policies of Chairman Butler of the national committee, and his prolonged absence had led to considerable speculation as to whether he would continue in his post.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of horses held in Chicago for week ending Saturday, July 5, on shipments sold, ranged from 10 to 15 cents per pound—Adv.

SOCIALISTS RISK PARTY SCHISM TO O. K. LA FOLLETTE

Indorse His Candidacy After Bitter Debate.

BY WALTER RODERICK.
(Picture on back page.)

Cleveland, Ohio, July 7.—[Special.]—The independent candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for President was endorsed by the national Socialist convention tonight by a vote of 115 to 17. The vote was taken on the adoption of a majority report signed by thirteen members of the committee on relations with the conference for Progressive Political Action.

It came after hours of heated debate during which delegates from various parts of the country predicted such action would inevitably result in a division of the Socialist party.

The vote does not indicate the extent of the sentiment which opponents of the measure declare exists in the rank and file of the party for the nomination of an out and out Socialist candidate.

How Illinois Voted.
The original vote stood 115 to 19, two delegates switching on roll call. Illinois vote was evenly divided. Those who voted for it were: Tilden Boush, John Collins, George Koop, Morris Skind and Swan Johnson. Those voting against it were: W. R. Snow, John T. Whitlock, Dan Woodhouse, John Frank Danis and Attorney William A. Cunneen, who defended Eugene V. Debs when he was sentenced to the Atlanta penitentiary in this city several years ago.

Indiana voted 3 to 1 against the La Follette endorsement.

The majority report was adopted after a minority report signed by Delegates Snow and William Henry and a substitute proposition offered by Judge Jack Finken of New York had been rejected by viva voce vote.

The majority report makes the claim that the conference for Progressive Political Action "represented" about 3,000,000 organized workers, substantial sections of the working farmers, several independent progressive political organizations and the Socialist party through its national and state committees.

Recommendations of Report.
It recommends: That the Socialist party concur in the La Follette endorsement "on the platform submitted by him" but with strict adherence to the "principles of Socialism."

That it authorize the executive committee "in its discretion" to endorse whatever candidate for Vice President is picked by the C. P. P. A.

That a request be made for increased representation on the enlarged C. P. P. A. national committee.

That the Socialist party cooperate "wholeheartedly" with the C. P. P. A. in the national elections and "in all such state and local elections in which independent candidates are nominated."

That the party send a full representation to the convention to be held in January, 1925, for the purpose of forming a permanent and independent new party.

That these representatives be instructed to vote for the formation of "a party composed of economic organizations of labor, working farmers, the Socialist and other advanced groups; to be separate and distinct from and opposed to the Republican, Democratic and other capitalist parties."

Bitter Debate Before Vote.
The minority report objected to signing "a blank check for a vice presi-

MRS. HARRIMAN NOT ENGAGED TO WED SENATOR T. J. WALSH

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. J. Borden Harriman tonight denied reports published in Chicago that an announcement of her engagement to marry Senator Thomas J. Walsh, chairman of the national Democratic convention, would be announced when the convention closes.

Mrs. Harriman, who has occupied a place on the platform throughout the convention, was interviewed in Madison Square Garden.

"The report is not correct," Mrs. Harriman said, and she would not discuss the matter any further.

Mrs. Harriman has been taking an active part in the campaign for William Gibbs McAdoo. In Washington, where she maintains a home, she has been seen much in the company of Senator Walsh. She has been a widow since 1913, and for years has been a leader in New York society.

denial nominees not yet named," and recommended that party nominate its own candidates for President and Vice President. The Panken proposition provided for endorsement of the vice presidential candidate only in case he is "not also a candidate of either the Democratic or Republican party and is satisfactory to the national committee."

It also provided that in case La Follette's choice of running mate did not meet with the approval of the Socialist committee a call would be issued for representatives of state organizations to take suitable action.

The debate became so acrimonious at times the Morris Illiquit was compelled to appeal for self-control on the part of the speakers and caution them to abstain from attacks on characters and motives of others present.

Debs Advises "No Candidate."
"The majority received additional support from a telegram to the convention from Debs, still in a sanitarium in Elmhurst. It read in part as follows: 'I think it wise for our party to make no nominations under the circumstances but at the same time to hold the Socialist party intact, adhere rigidly to its principles and keep the red flag flying. I hope above all there will be no division but that all will unite loyally in carrying out the program adopted by the convention.'"

WED IN HASTE, REPENT AT, ETC., IS ALL TOO TRUE
Miss Margaret Cameron, 21, 5718 Cornelia avenue—or rather Mrs. Le Roy Belmont—visited the detective bureau last night to ask the police to search for her husband, Dr. LeRoy Belmont, said to have come from San Antonio, who married her last January, then left her after a week.

The two met in a State street drug store, said the bride to Lieut. Michael Lyng. Neither one seemed to speak first. It was just love at first sight. They were married and for a week lived happily at her home. He had a big roll of money, but he never touched it. He always paid with bills from another pocket, said Miss Cameron, i. e., Mrs. Belmont.

Then he disappeared and an appeal to the police failed to locate him. And she can't get a divorce until she does, she told the lieutenant in her second attempt last night.

'BEER AND ROSES' O'BANNION MUCH IRKED BY COURT

Jury Choosing Lags at Hi-Jacking Trial.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Mr. Dean O'Bannon, the modest north side florist whom the police are always surprising far from the soda beds and near the beer wagons, is resigned to a long absence from his American beauties and calla lilies, as he sits before Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe and waits for the attorneys to select a jury to try him and "Dapper Dan" McCarthy, for an alleged $30,000 hold-up of a beer-running truck, back on the 23d of January.

"Say," the genial purveyor of sweet peas mused yesterday, "it's gonna take them longer to get a jury than it'll take the Democrats to pick a candidate for President."

And it looks as if Mr. O'Bannon were right.

Jury Choosing Diligent.

The difficulties, there are two of them, standing in the way of a swift selection of a jury to try the case which came to trial yesterday, are these: Find twelve good men and true who haven't a prejudiced opinion regarding prohibition; find twelve men who haven't heard of Dean O'Bannon, the horticulturist who spends more time in court than in a garden.

"Regardless of what you think of prohibition, you believe that it ought to be enforced just as all of our laws ought to be enforced, don't you?" It is Assistant District Attorney Edwin L. Weiss, prosecutor, who shoots the question.

Mr. O'Bannon smiles and sits forward.

Mr. McCarthy, business agent for the plumbers' union, smiles and sits back.

But the prospective juror doesn't smile. In a faint voice, and low, he allows he agrees with the prosecutor.

The Other Side.

"You aren't prejudiced, one way or the other, regarding the liquor question, are you?" It is Attorney Michael Ahern, who, with Attorneys Thomas Nash and Joseph Merensky, represents the defense, speaking now to the next juror.

"Why," the juror replies slowly, "about seven years ago I contributed some money toward an anti-saloon organization."

Back in the audience the Rev. Elmer Williams smiles.

"Perhaps you've changed your mind in the last five years," Attorney Ahern suggests.

"Yes, sir, I have changed my mind," the man says in a loud voice.

And so it goes.

As court adjourns for the day and no jurors sworn in, Mr. O'Bannon philosophizes: "I'm not guilty. I want to run a florist shop if they'd only let me alone."

CHIEF SUSPENDS 2 LIEUTENANTS, SIX POLICEMEN

Lieut. Axel Jensen and Lieut. John J. O'Brien with six members of their detective bureau squads were ordered suspended by Chief Collins last night. Charges filed with the civil service commission yesterday by Chief of Detectives Hughes accuse Jensen and his group of cruelty to prisoners, while O'Brien and his aides are alleged to have pocketed the stakes seized in a gambling raid.

In a hearing a few weeks ago, the council police committee was told that Lieut. Jensen with Policemen Thomas Connolly, James Frawley, Harry Phelan, and George Laurell, severely beat Samuel Cherry, 553 West Division street, when the latter complained that $150 disappeared from his desk.

Lieut. O'Brien with Policemen John F. Stelb and William J. McKenna are said to have raided the cigar store at 523 Broadway, owned by Robert Gallery, arresting Gallery and thirteen participants in an alleged gambling game. While a large sum of money is said to have been confiscated by the policemen as evidence, only $2.20 was turned over to the police custodian by the raiders.

WARRANTS OUT FORTWO PAJAMA PARTY ACTORS

Another chapter of the Johnson-Phelan "pajama party" was about to be written in the Sheffield avenue police court yesterday, but two of the participants failed to make their appearance. Warrants were issued by Judge Peter H. Schwaba for Henry Johnson, husband of Mrs. Ethel Johnson, 921 Edgecomb place, and Ethel Phelan, living at 1913 Broadway.

Johnson and Miss Phelan are alleged to have been found huddled in a hallway in Miss Phelan's apartment, clad only in silk pajamas, when it was raided by Mrs. Johnson and two detectives. Upon seeing Mrs. Johnson, Miss Phelan is said to have attempted to shoot her. The weapon was knocked from her hand by the detectives, Mrs. Johnson is then said to have attacked Miss Phelan and beat her about the face.

Mrs. Johnson was demolished by Judge Schwaba. She was charged with disorderly conduct.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS; DIES
Mrs. Carrie Spore, 89 years old, 7513 South Union avenue, died at her home yesterday from injuries caused Sunday when she fell downstairs.

HAROLD BRADLEY STILL MISSING; HEARING TODAY

If Harold Bradley, Chicago realtor, fails to answer in Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe's court today when his name is shouted by the bailiff, his family and business associates will proceed to wind up his intricate financial affairs as best they can without him, it was understood yesterday.

Bradley disappeared nearly two weeks ago pending outcome of an action begun by Attorney Lloyd Kirkland to collect from him a sum of $4,000 in rentals due from the bankrupt Sheridan Surf apartments.

At the time Judge Cliffe suspended action on the plea of attorneys that Bradley perhaps had dropped temporarily from sight until he could pull himself together following worry over his business troubles. Though an unremittent search by his wife, Mrs. Edith Bradley, and by his friends has been conducted in the meantime, no trace of Bradley has come to light.

Bradley, whose rise in the business world was meteoric, is supposed to have driven from Chicago in a Packard roadster. All efforts to get trace of the car also have failed.

PRINCE OF WALES PLANS U. S. VISIT NEXT SEPTEMBER

Washington, D. C., July 7.—(Special.)—The Prince of Wales, traveling incognito as Baron Renfrew, expects to come to the United States to witness the international polo matches between the American team and Great Britain, which will be played on Long Island in September.

The royal visitor, although an ardent follower of the game and a player himself, will not take part in any of the official matches played by the British team, but he does plan to take part in the practice and preliminary matches in which his countrymen will participate. The prince's visit will be for a period of about two weeks, and he is going to the United States for the sole purpose of seeing the contests.

The prince announced recently at the Dominion day dinner in London that he would visit his ranch in Canada this autumn. Undoubtedly he will make the visit to the United States during the same trip. For the last three weeks, it was learned, there has been an exchange of correspondence between British officials and the United States Polo association, which now has come to a successful conclusion.

The prince was informed that his public appearances while in this country would be made as few as possible and that every means would be taken to make his visit as informal and as free from social and diplomatic activities as he wished. An offer to mount the prince and place him with strong players for special matches also was made, but he decided that he will not take part in the play except in the practice sessions.

EX-CHICAGO HIGH SCHOOL YOUTH SLAYS FATHER

Quarrel at Supper
Leads to Shooting.

Dixon, Ill., July 7.—Dr. James M. Durin, 56, of Steward, one of Lee county's most prominent physicians, was shot and killed by his son, Gilbert, 23, in a fit of anger at their home Sunday evening.

Refusal of the boy to answer a question asked by his father at the supper table led to the shooting. Dr. Durin, angered by his son's refusal to talk, is said to have slapped him. The boy arose from the table, went to the coal house at the rear of residence, and returned with a .38-caliber gun, shooting through the screen door, without a word, it is charged.

Threats of violence against young Durin, who is a graduate of Hyde Park High school, Chicago, caused the officers to take extra precautions and to hurry him to the county jail at Dixon. He was held to the grand jury without bonds on a charge of murder by a coroner's jury.

WELL LIKED IN CHICAGO.

The Durin family was regarded as a model one by neighbors living near the winter home at 5210 Woodlawn avenue.

There were four children—Robert, 10 years old; Arlene, 15; Warren, 18, a graduate of Culver Military academy; and William, who is working in Pittsburgh, and Gilbert, 23.

The neighbors said that all the members of the family impressed them as happy and affectionate. They were unwilling to believe that Gilbert could have killed his father as reported.

The mother, they said, always passed the summers with Dr. Durin at Steward, bringing Gilbert and the other children back to the Woodlawn residence in the fall, that they might have the advantages of the city schools. The Chicago home, though recently offered for sale, has been occupied in this manner for the last seven years.

COOLIDGE'S SON DIES OF POISON OF SMALL WOUND

Blister of Foot Is Fatal to Youth.

There was little hope. It was just a matter of time.

The location of the poison in the bone is known as osteomyelitis and had the poison stayed in that one spot all might have been well. But it went back up the leg and soon was ravaging the vitals of the boy, causing intense pain.

Doctors Abandon Hope.

This condition became apparent at noon today after numerous periods of unconsciousness. At 4 p. m. the doctors announced that the boy "could not be worse," and had "less than one chance in 1,000 to live." At 6 p. m. he again became unconscious. At 8 p. m. the formal announcement was made that the physicians themselves had abandoned hope.

This chronology might have been shortened if the boy had not had the nerve of a veteran. They feared the little kid from the vitality of a lad of 18 who has grown five inches in six months—wrecking the tissues and the stamina.

And then, early today he learned that death was near. But he never quit. He always insisted he would get well—when he knew life was leaving. Physicians, commenting on

FIDELITY ACTORS LOSE THEIR SUIT AGAINST THE EQUITY ACTORS

New York, N. Y., July 7.—Supreme Court Justice Pitcock today denied the application of the Actors' Fidelity League, made through Miss Ruth Chatterton, treasurer, for an injunction to prevent the Actors' Equity association and the Managers' Protective association from carrying out their contract providing that 50 per cent of every cast be Equity members.

Miss Chatterton had contended that the agreement tended to drive Fidelity members and independent actors off the stage.

Supreme Court Justice McCook upheld the legality of the Equity contract, when, on May 23, he denied an application for a similar injunction made by the Producing Managers' association. His decision was affirmed.

his marvelous fight, said it was a miracle that he lived as long as he did.

Crowds Outside White House.

Within an hour after the death word had spread through Washington from extra newspaper editions crowds gathered outside the White House, some morbidly curious, many asking each other if there wasn't some way to make their sympathy known to the President.

But the President sat silently within the White House. He entered it about a year ago in the sadness of Warren Harding's death and now it has brought sorrow to him.

REAL AMERICAN BOY

Washington, D. C., July 7.—(Special.)—Calvin Coolidge Jr., second son of the President of the United States, during the sixteen years of his life lived exactly the same kind of life as millions of other American boys, notwithstanding the fact that for four years his father was governor of Massachusetts and for almost a year his home was the White House.

He commenced his education in the public schools of Northampton, Mass., where his father formerly practiced law. Then when Calvin Coolidge was elected to the Vice Presidency, young Calvin Jr., together with his older brother, John, continued their studies at the Mercersburg academy, Mercersburg, Pa. Like thousands of other boys they "hired out" during the summer vacations in order to obtain spending money for themselves.

Worked on Tobacco Farm.

When Calvin Coolidge became President of the United States on the death of President Harding, Calvin Jr. was sweating away under the heat of a boiling sun, picking up bundles of tobacco on the tobacco farm of Dickinson and Day, at Hatfield, Mass.

Calvin Jr. was inclined to be taciturn and silent; somewhat after the manner of his father. He was a slender, blue-eyed youth of a very athletic and active disposition. Last summer he and John obtained a job at the tobacco farm from the manager and were set to work in the fields and sheds at the rate of $3.50 a day for nine hours' work. Knowledge of his father's elevation to the Presidency made no difference to young Calvin as far as his work on the farm was concerned. He carried on with the usual routine, which was to get up at day-break each morning, eat a hasty breakfast at home, and then ride on his bicycle eight miles to the farm. Lunch was carried in a workman's dinner pail and dinner was eaten when he returned home at 7 in the evening.

Went to Church on Sundays.

On Sundays he attended church and Sunday school at the Edwards Congregational church, Northampton.

When Calvin Jr. entered the Mercersburg academy the President requested newspaper men covering the White House to avoid giving publicity to the doings of his sons. Both Calvin Jr. and John were sent to Mercersburg when their father was elected to the Vice Presidency. This was done on account of the household moving from Northampton to Washington. Mercersburg is not far from the capital.

The brothers occupied a sunny corner room in Main hall at the academy, erected in 1835. Mrs. Coolidge was a frequent visitor and on occasions when stream of public functions prevented her from visiting her boys she always remembered them by sending a cake or some other delicacy that would tempt the appetite of a growing boy.

Spent Much Time on Lessons.

Instructors at the academy often remarked that young Calvin spent more time and care in preparing his lessons than any other student. When he first came to the school some of the other boys were inclined to think that he was a little "up stage," but when they learned to know him he was soon adopted as one of the leaders.

When the vacation commenced this summer both lads returned to the White House. They accompanied their parents on their week-end cruises on the Mayflower. John Coolidge was graduated from Mercersburg on June 3 and is to enter Amherst, his father's alma mater, this fall. Young Calvin had another year to complete at Mercersburg.

"REAL BOY," SAYS COACH

Newark, N. J., July 7.—"He was a real boy, and a boy that all the fellows loved and respected," Harry Coates, athletic coach at Mercersburg academy, said tonight when interviewed of the death of Calvin Coolidge Jr.

"It is but a little over a month ago that 'Cal' was galloping around the track at Mercersburg, not an athlete, but just a red-blooded boy taking exercise in the same manner that all red-blooded American boys do," said Coach Coates, who remarked that the boy was absolutely stripped of the "airs and pretensions" that are sometimes affected by sons of great men. The boy's former athletic tutor said that Calvin was foremost in every activity at Mercersburg, but was neither old nor quite sturdy enough to make any of the variety teams, although he was prominent as one of the most loyal supporters of athletics in the academy.

"When chances for victory seemed darkest," he said, "Cal cheered the loudest."

Ralston Sends Condolences.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—A telegram of sympathy for the death of their son was dispatched to President and Mrs. Coolidge tonight by United States Senator Samuel M. Ralston and his wife. The telegram follows: "The loss of your son has touched the heart of the nation with sorrow and sympathy, which we profoundly hope, may help to alleviate your grief."

Democrats Wire Sympathy.

New York, July 7.—Hundreds of messages of condolence and sympathy upon the loss of his son were sent to President Coolidge tonight by prominent Democrats here attending the national Democratic convention.

Among those who conveyed their regrets to the President were William Jennings Bryan, former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, Joseph P. Tumulty, Senator Earle B. Mayfield of Texas, and Mayor William W. Bryan of Nebraska. Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas, and W. W. Brandon of Alabama also sent telegrams.

Woman Walking in Street Robbed of $3,000 in Gems

Mrs. Fannie Gersenson, 7938 South Marshfield avenue, was robbed of jewelry valued at $3,000 by an armed man early this morning as she was walking in 80th street between Marshfield and Ashland avenues, she reported to the police.

FURNITURE MART DEDICATES ITS NEW BUILDING

Former Gov. Morrow of Kentucky was speaker of the day at the dedication of the American Furniture Mart, 666 Lake Shore drive, yesterday afternoon.

"This is a dedication to the American home," he said, "for furniture is the one thing all friends, rich or poor, have in common. Old Kentucky home, little gray home in the west, or palaces—they all have their chairs and tables."

Laurence Whiting, chairman of the board, presided over the services which were held in the American Exhibition palace.

The building, which was actually opened for business with the opening of the furniture dealers' convention, June 23, has more than 1,500,000 square feet of floor space—the greatest amount in the world under one roof—and cost over $10,000,000. About 5,000 dealers from all over the United States and Canada have visited its exhibition rooms and placed orders during the last two weeks.

FREE YOUTH OF JULY 4 PISTOL DEATH OF CHUM

A coroner's jury yesterday exonerated August Tamburino, 20, 2707 North Mansfield avenue, of the Fourth of July slaying of his chum, Charles Krueger, 19, 2737 North Mansura avenue. Tamburino was showing Krueger a pistol with which the two were planning to celebrate the holiday when the weapon was discharged.

Charles Moore, 2 years old, died yesterday in Aurora, Ill., of burns received when her dress was ignited by a sparkler last Saturday.

Jeanne Roese, aged 4, of 3842 Lyndale street, died early last night at St. Elizabeth's hospital from burns she suffered Sunday afternoon, when her dress became ignited as she was attempting to light a piece of punk.

Damage estimated at $4,000 was caused yesterday in the Kimball Hall building, 304 South Wabash avenue, by a fire that started in the grease chute in Dow's restaurant.

MAC DONALD OFF TO PARIS TO TRY TO SAVE HERRIOT

Brion Seeks to Avert a French Crisis.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, July 7.—The Anglo-French crisis over the London conference on the Dawes report became so much more acute today that after a long, anxious conference at the foreign office, Prime Minister MacDonald decided to make a dash to Paris tomorrow in an effort to straighten matters out and probably also save Premier Herriot's government from defeat, if necessary. The Tribune is informed, Mr. MacDonald is willing to allow the conference to be held in Paris instead of London, if this will calm French opinion. Mr. MacDonald hopes to demonstrate also by his flying trip to Paris that the Premier's allegation that Premier Herriot has become a puppet of the British foreign office is untrue.

Goes to Herriot's Invitation.
Mr. MacDonald made a long statement on the situation to parliament today at the opening of the discussion of the foreign office financial vote. "I am not going to allow, if I can help it, any mischief maker on either side of the channel to destroy the prospects of a settlement between France and ourselves," he said. "That is a thing which is too horrible to contemplate. I propose to accept the suggestion made by the French prime minister this morning to go to Paris tomorrow morning."

British Diplomats Stunned.
British diplomats were stunned by Prime Minister MacDonald's speech tonight, which is regarded as containing one supreme blunder which may lead to the doom of the Herriot government in France. If he fails it is quite on the cards that he may fall himself when he returns, for the Liberals are much incensed at what they call his blunders in face of the greatest opportunity to secure a reparations settlement since the war.

Both H. H. Asquith and Stanley Baldwin are reported as saying in the lobby tonight that they did not understand half the time what the prime minister was trying to say in his speech.

DELAY HERRIOT ATTACK

LOGAN D. WALLACE RE-ELECTED AS JURY COMMISSIONER

Judges of the four Cook county courts met yesterday afternoon and selected jury commissioner Logan D. Wallace.

George W. Clark, the Republican nominee for the post, lost out by three votes, he getting 21 votes to Wallace's 24. Two Democratic judges, Frank Johnston and William J. Lindsay, voted for Clark, while two Republican judges, Jesse McDermott and Wells M. Cook, Emanuel Eiler, and Marcus A. Kavanagh, voted for Wallace.

Commissioner Wallace was selected to succeed Frank X. Rydzewski, when the latter became a member of the board of local improvements.

ate tomorrow on its policy regarding the Dawes report have been disrupted by Prime Minister MacDonald's visit. After a meeting of the various opposition groups tonight it was announced that nine hostile speeches scheduled for tomorrow will not be made.

M. Poincaré's attack has been put off until Friday, as it would be impossible to overthrow the government while the British prime minister was here carrying on important conversations.

The opposition groups are working up steam now over the "trick" supposedly involved in Mr. MacDonald's visit. They accuse M. Herriot of arranging the affair in order to stave off the attack and possible defeat of the government.

Premier Completes Note.

Premier Herriot finished the text of the French note to the allied and associated powers at 7 o'clock tonight. The note will not be sent until after Mr. MacDonald's sudden visit, which may produce some modifications in the French position by mutual concessions.

According to a reliable source, the tone of the note is firm as regards France's rights under the treaty of Versailles, but on a number of points M. Herriot shows a willingness to make arrangements without sacrificing the form of the treaty.

A striking feature of the French note, and one which will raise a tempest in Germany, is M. Herriot's flat refusal to call the Germans into the conference in London until they have voted special legislation required to make the expert's reparations report operative. The French will walk out of the conference if England attempts to call in the Germans before the Dawes report legislation is voted at Berlin.

SEE PEACE SABOTAGE

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, July 7.—German officialdom sees in the last fortnight's events, which have almost cost M. Herriot the premiership of France and endangered Prime Minister MacDonald's position, part of a great reactionary movement to crush the leading statesmen who are pledged to come to an understanding on the Dawes report, make real peace, rehabilitate the European finances, and restore the European stability. These same forces are working in Germany against Foreign Minister Stresemann.

These three concerted movements from the government opposition are called "the bloody international" a phrase which suddenly has become famous here. All the liberal elements standing behind the German government, and hoping for an honest settlement with liberal France, believe the opposition, or "bloody international" of the three countries are united to prolong the strife in Europe and regain the political middle for themselves.

The German officials point out that the government is doing its utmost to hasten an acceptance of the Dawes plan. The attacks upon Premier Herriot and Prime Minister MacDonald, however, undermine the government's position and delay the assurances Germany has repeatedly asked that the Ruhr will be evacuated and other action taken which will make the German Reichstag and people accept the Dawes report and faithfully carry it out.

BLAME REDS FOR "STRIKE" BY 600 FILIPINO SCOUTS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

MANILA, July 7.—Officers at Fort McKinley spent last night examining individually the disaffected Filipino scouts who went on "strike" for more pay there. Of 100 examined all but six agreed to return to duty. Nearly 600 remain to be examined, as the total of those disaffected is approximately 800, according to this morning's statement by army headquarters.

The army statement said the trouble was due to bolshevik emissaries. The navy headquarters stated that no orders had been issued for the return of the Asiatic fleet to Manila. The fleet now is scattered along the China coast.

Generally it is believed that the Legionario Del Trabajo, or Knights of Labor, a secret society, is backing this movement and the strike of 600 Filipino laborers at Cavite navy yard, which was called several days ago and is still unsettled.

The legionists have semi-bolshevik tendencies, though many refuse to believe it is connected with Russia. Manuel Quezon is honorary president.

EVANSTON'S ZONE LAW ATTACKED BY MRS. DEYNZER

Evanston's refusal to permit Mrs. Sarah V. Brown Deynzer to build an elaborate $1,000,000 apartment building on Milburn street between Sheridan road and the lake, yesterday brought Mrs. Deynzer into court before Superior Judge Oscar Hebel.

The property is zoned, under Evanston's new zoning law, for private residences. Mrs. Deynzer charges this was done just because she wished to build a larger structure. She seeks to have the village fathers restrained from interfering with the erection of the building.

Mrs. Deynzer testified that already there were 400 apartment buildings in Evanston, and six or eight hotels, ranging in height from four to eight stories. She said her property, valued at $200,000, did not give her a satisfactory return for the investment.

A word of warning to you—the mother of the dearest baby in the world

You are tired and anxious as you sit beside your baby's crib in the deadly heat of the big city. With good reason you dread the long, hot summer—the blazing days—the stifling nights—so hard on little children.

Because these words are written here you are going to read an article in the August Delineator that may save your baby's life. It is called "Hot-Weather Health For Children." By Dr. Florence L. McKay, the New York State Health Department Director of Maternity, Infancy and Child Hygiene. Telling so wisely, so clearly and in such a simple, practical way just what to do in summer about food and clothes and rest and sleep. Inviting you to write for expert personal advice on your own baby's particular needs.

Not one but many babies' lives this wonderful article is sure to save this summer. Perhaps it won't be your baby—but it might be—yes, indeed, it might!

Have You a Little Budget in Your Home?

It's the only way you can avoid unpleasant surprises when the monthly bills come in. Martha Van Rensselaer, Head of Cornell University's School of Home Economics and The Delineator's Editor of Home-making, has received so many requests from Delineator readers for help in making family budgets that she has made a special study of this vital subject.

Result—a series of valuable articles on the family budget by Miss Van Rensselaer and other authorities, starting in the August Delineator. They will help you spend and save on a sound and methodical basis.

Does Your Voice Give You Away?

Have you ever envied another woman her pleasant, melodious voice? You, too, can have such a voice, if only you are willing to take a little trouble. In the August Delineator Vida R. Sutton gives you interesting, practical advice on this most important subject.

John Tries To Love Two Girls At Once

"I'll get talked about," she said, "out here alone with you." So being a decent sort, John decides he must be engaged to Mella and he tries to forget Sally. In Berthe K. Mellett's story "Chivalry" you will read the amusing complications that follow. For John discovers that a man can't really love two girls at the same time—and that there really is such a thing as chivalry among women.

Celia Cole Talks of Romance and Red Lips

Haven't you a right to be romantic? Weren't you meant to be beautiful and attractive to men? Celia Cole says "Yes!" That woman was created after man because man didn't measure up! So it's distinctly up to women to make the very best of what they've got. Mrs. Cole entitles her article "Romance and Red Lips" but the advice she has to give you is practical as well as romantic.

The Girl Who Had Never Been Kissed

To the very eve of her thirtieth birthday Ann had never been kissed. Then two men try to kiss her the same evening and her romance begins just as the clock strikes twelve! A most fascinating story is "Her Thirtieth Birthday" by Dorothy Sanburn Phillips—a whimsical romance that you will surely enjoy.

Flaming Love and High Adventure

Men were no mystery to Rita Romano, the beautiful dancer. She knew them at their best and at their worst. But her heart went out to this poor soldier boy flying from the police.

Flaming love and high adventure will hold your interest at fever heat in "The Fire-Flower" by Charles Saxby. And love and adventure are brought to a dramatic climax by the mysterious flower of unearthly beauty found beside the broken altar of the Lost Mission.

ALIENIST SQUAD TESTS MINDS OF LEOPOLD, LOEB

Another Expert on Way from the East.

Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb were subjected to the most searching mental examination yesterday of all that have been made by psychiatrists and physicians retained by attorneys for the defense. Five doctors examined the two boys for several hours in the emergency cell in the county jail during the day.

At the conclusion of the tests it was made known by Attorney Clarence S. Darrow that Dr. Bernard Gluck, medical advisor of New York's penal institutions, was on his way to Chicago to take part in the examinations of the two boys accused of the kidnapping and murder of Bobby Franks.

Two More Doctors Appear.

Two additional doctors made their entry into the ranks of those working for the defense yesterday, making thirteen in all, in spite of the statement of the boys' fathers that they did not intend to spend a large sum in their defense. Drs. William J. Hickson and Sanger Brown, both of Chicago, appeared in the county jail in company with Attorney Benjamin Bachrach in the afternoon.

Dr. Hickson is chief alienist for the Municipal courts and head of the Cook County Psychopathic hospital. He has had wide experience in examining criminals and was the principal witness in the murder trials of Carl W. Anderson and Harvey Church, several years ago. He also has had varied experience in a number of well known divorce and will probate cases.

Dr. Brown is well known in local medical circles for his writing and experiments in insanity. The nature of the examinations to which they submitted the two boys could not be learned, but it was said they went chiefly along the line of questioning for the purpose of obtaining a conception of the mental status through the answers received.

Gluck Famous in East.

Dr. Gluck is well known in the east. It was said, and has taken the lead in many of Philadelphia's great criminal cases. It was for that reason, it was presumed, that he was retained to examine the two accused slayers of young Franks.

Attorney Bachrach stated at the conclusion of the day's work that he hoped to get through with the alienists within a few days so that he can get their testimony in for the coming trial on Aug. 4.

The arguments of motions will be heard on July 21, according to Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court calendar, and it is expected that the evidence concerning the boys' mental status will be ready at that time.

Whether the defense plans to file a petition asking for an insanity hearing, prior to the actual murder trial, could not be learned yesterday. Both attorneys merely added they would be ready, it was expected, at the time the hearings are set.

PICKPOCKET HELD TO GRAND JURY. Frank Foster, a pickpocket, was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $2,000. He attempted to rob Thomas Schell, 2040 Berwyn avenue, as he was about to board a street car. Foster was arrested after a struggle with the motorist and conductor. He was finally overpowered and turned over to a policeman.

Oil Burners for the Smallest Bungalow to the Tallest Skyscraper

Now—Oil heat for smaller homes

At new low prices. Pay with what you save from coal burning.
Clean, dependable, efficient—no coal-stoking, no fear of fire-failure. Get the book—learn the terms. Send the coupon!

THIS offers a famous new type oil-burner, proved successful in thousands of large homes, now for the first time available for owners of 6 and 8-room houses, bungalows, 2-apartment houses. At a price and terms within the means of every purse.

For years oil heating of homes has been acknowledged the simplest, cleanest, most economical way to heat through the winter. But oil-burners had always been expensive to install. They were not adapted to small homes.

You asked us to make an oil-burner for your home. We did, and this tells the facts about it.

Of course you know of Kleen-Heet, the famous oil-burner that is in thousands of larger homes throughout the land today. Our engineers perfected that after years of experiment. They made 24 different types of burners before they were satisfied. We began to study oil-burning 10 years ago.

Then came another type of Kleen-Heet, for large buildings. And it too, was an instant success. But the big demand was for a low-priced, efficient burner for small houses. So now we have developed this new burner, and offer it at new low prices, at terms that all can afford. It fits in any furnace, and the prices quoted include its installation.

Set once for all winter

With this new oil-burner all worry over your heat is banished. When cold weather starts, set the thermostat in the living room. The burner, in the basement, automatically delivers all the heat you want, all over the house, without further attention.

Fits Your Present Furnace

Install this new oil-burner
NOW—Prices include installation.

Moderate Prices
Convenient, Liberal Terms

This is a message to the small home owners who annually struggle with unsatisfactory coal furnaces. Expensive, wasteful, dirty—giving inadequate heat and requiring constant attention.

Constant, controlled heat 24 hours a day! No early rising to start the furnace. No fear of fires dying with your wife alone in the house.

The flow of oil is automatically controlled in just the required quantity. No waste. If the thermometer drops, the thermostat opens the oil valve, the house remains uniformly heated despite the outside cold. Now even heat at all times—a great health factor, doctors say.

Now on liberal terms

This new oil-burner is moderately priced, and may be bought on terms which make it false economy not to own it. The lowest priced completely automatic oil-burner.

Suppose you now pay a furnace man $15 a month to attend your fires; and $3 a month to remove the ashes. That's $18 a month. If you do this work yourself surely your own time is worth what you would have to pay.

This new oil-burner will be installed for a small down payment, and as low as $25 a month. Only $7 a month more than you actually save on the elimination of coal. Less than 25 cents a day!—and no upkeep or maintenance whatever.

See now, while coal bin is empty

Now that the coal-bin is empty, learn about fuel-oil heating. See this wonderful new system for small homes. See the enthusiastic testimonials of thousands of home owners.

Then instead of buying costly coal, put that money into installing this burner in your home. Know a new comfort of body and mind.

COUNTY DEMANDS WIDE GATEWAYS FOR CHICAGOANS

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Good roads dollars poured into the state treasury by Chicago, Cook county and northern Illinois motorists may be brought home again by the state bond issue law itself. Despite the fact that this county has been repaying about 35 per cent of the principal and interest, when due, on the $10,000,000 bond issue and receiving only about 10 per cent of roads in return.

Possibility of equalizing local expenditure and local highway mileage through the great highway widening and development program launched by the county board recently was shown to commissioners yesterday by President Anton J. Cernak. Mr. Cernak cited a provision of the state highway law to back the contention that the state should widen the main arteries leading into the Chicago transportation terminals.

Cites Law As City Aid.

Initial action on the new phase of the wider road campaign came during a meeting of the county roads and bridges committee. The president presented a resolution calling on the state to widen the bond issue routes leading into Chicago and read a portion of section 7 of the state bond issue law, passed in 1918 by referendum vote, as authority.

Here is the all important section:

"Said hard surfaced parts of said roads [the $10,000,000 bond issue routes designated in the law] shall be constructed of sufficient width to meet the requirements of traffic thereon. Such widths, except in extreme cases, to be not less than 10 feet nor more than 18 feet."

The resolution, which was discussed at length by the committee, includes an outline of the present terminal situation. It states that the 18-foot concrete pavements within the terminal radius cannot possibly care for the present congested traffic and adds that the state routes are now the principal thoroughfares leading into Chicago. It petitions the state to widen these roads to 34 feet, holding that today's congestion has reached the point of the "extreme cases" mentioned in the law itself.

Criticizes City Paving.

The city of Chicago came in for its share of criticism as a result of the discussion. The commissioners agreed that there are too few highway entrances to the city proper, that many of the main arteries carrying the terminal traffic are poorly paved, and that the city should cooperate fully in the survey of county road traffic now being made by federal government and county engineers and should provide new entrances and through traffic streets immediately.

Mr. George A. Quinlan, county highway superintendent, was requested to make an early report on the city entrance question and to recommend the city improvements that will hook up best with the new county development plan.

This move was anticipated by the highway department. A party of three government experts under the direction of E. E. Powell, field manager in direct charge of the joint government and county road survey, began a four-months' traffic check in the city proper yesterday morning.

Test Northwest Gateway.

They operated yesterday on Elston avenue between Lawrence and Koser, recording the traffic flow in both directions between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. Every important intersection and traffic street in Chicago will be covered by the checkers during the survey and a twenty-four hour report made to supplement the mountain of data gathered by forces working on the county highway system.

In that way the engineers expect thoroughly to link up the city and county traffic requirements and clear up congestion in Chicago as well as on county roads through the resulting improvement program.

Government engineers began active work on the county investigation yesterday when eight field parties went into action at strategic points on the main pavements. Every car and truck using Roosevelt road, Rand road, Milwaukee avenue and other main highways was stopped and data gathered as to its points of loading and destination, ownership, weight and general operation.

Delayed at the Scales.

Weighing parties were handicapped somewhat because approaches to the highway scales installed at some of the checking stations are not yet ready for use, but the scales will be put into service by the end of the week. Checkers in Chicago proper will not stop cars or trucks. Their job is to check the traffic flow only. This party will reach the boulevard link bridge sometime before the end of the month.

The roads which the county wants the state to widen from eighteen to thirty-six feet are: Rand road, Roosevelt road, Ogden avenue, Milwaukee avenue, Lake street, Halsted street, and Sheridan road.

CORONER ORDERS POST-MORTEM ON AMELIA SCHMIDT

The inquest over Amelia Schmidt, whose body was found in the lake early Sunday, was continued yesterday until July 11, pending a post-mortem examination and further investigation. Officers from the East Chicago avenue station told of finding a 18-month-old baby curled up asleep on a woman's coat just a foot from the water's edge at the pier at midnight June 23. Two boys told of seeing the woman's body floating in the lake at Ohio street just a week later.

According to the testimony of her husband, Emil Schmidt, 3311 North Keating street, and relatives, she had no reason to commit suicide and had never shown any despondency or temperamental streaks.

'TRIMS' FELLOW PRISONER AFTER 'STUPID ARREST'

Mr. Ray Voorhees, erstwhile of London and New York, who is an artist in setting and, the police charge, in obtaining money without labor, went yesterday on with both professions yesterday, though he was moved from the Drake hotel.

After he explained to his fellow prisoners, herded downstairs in the detective bureau, that he was there merely to "investigate conditions"—possibly to write a monograph. The police would not even let him change for dinner—were away as they listened to his gibes.

"You need a lawyer," he sagely told John Imken, 17 South Sangamon street, who's charged with receiving stolen property. "And I'll see that you get one, too." For the sum of $11, which John cheerfully handed over.

Arrest Something of a Bore. To those in "the know" he explained his arrest as a "very stupid oversight."

"Didn't look over my bank statement, don't you know. But I have another checking account here, if they'd only let me out to fix the bally thing up," he exclaimed.

He's been here just three days, he says, but hotel officials say he's missed about for several weeks, favoring the Edgewater Beach, the Great Northern, the Morrison, and the La Salle with his presence—and checks totaling about $150.

Bitterly he bemoaned this interference with his "art."

"Why, I was to open this week at the Academy theater," he said, dramatically running a slim white hand over his marcel. "A beautiful little

INA CLAIRE, STAR OF DIVORCE PLAYS, SEEKS SEPARATION IN PARIS

(Copyright, 1924, by the New York Times.)

PARIS, July 7.—Ina Claire, the American comedienne, wife of James R. Whitaker of 64 East 64th street, New York City, has asked the Paris courts to release her from her matrimonial bonds. It was learned today.

Mrs. Whitaker, who resides at the Hotel Saint Regis, was "out" to call this morning, but her secretary, after a prolonged absence, declared there must be some person of the same name living at the same address. She refused, however, to confirm or deny that Mrs. Whitaker was seeking a divorce. There is no other Whitaker living there and Mrs. Whitaker is known there both by her maiden and married names.

act, too, with my wife and a charming young lady—"

He was interrupted by the arrival of the "charming young lady" with Capt. William Schoemaker of the bureau.

He Charms Charming One. "That's the man!" she exclaimed. "He's got my pictures!"

Beautifully at ease, and calmly reassuring, Mr. Voorhees explained the circumstances that caused him to walk away with several dozen of her expensive portraits. He's a master at explanation! Satisfied, she left.

Early in the day when his knickers were creased and his shirt still white, he posed most agreeably for photographers. But when his clothes lost their freshness he refused.

BITTER CHARGES MARK MEXICAN BALLOT COUNT

Victory Is Claimed by Calles and Flores.

Mexico City, July 7.—[United News.]—The front pages of the newspapers here are filled with comic supplement literature in which the supporters of both Gen. Flores and El Plutarco Calles, rival presidential candidates in the election yesterday, accuse each other of precisely the same things—namely: stealing ballot boxes, preventing free voting by force of arms, and election irregularities of all sorts.

Leaders of both camps published telegrams from all parts of the country announcing complete victory for themselves, and reporting excesses of the opposition party.

Gen. Flores has wired President

Oregon complaining of the treatment accorded his supporters at the polls.

Oregon May Have to Stay.

Gen. Calles claims that he won a large majority in the federal district. Political observers concede that this probably is correct, although the Flores voters turned out heavily.

Meanwhile there is no hope of knowing just how the election resulted. It is hoped that complete returns may be in by the end of the week.

Feeling between partisans of the two candidates is so acute that in some quarters it is believed that neither one of them will be seated and the outcome may be a continuation of President Obregon in office as a military dictator.

Calles Leads in Juarez. El Paso, Tex., July 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gen. P. Elias Calles won a slight majority of votes over Gen. Angel Flores for president of Mexico in the election Sunday in the Juarez district, it was announced today.

It was at first thought that Gen. Flores would poll the most votes in the Juarez district, but counts from the lower valley towns of Zaragoza, San Ignacio, Guadalupe and San Augustin piled up a small majority for Gen. Calles.

Flores Losing in Sonora.

Douglas, Ariz., July 7.—Yesterday's election in Agua Prieta, Sonora, passed off without disturbance. The result was a victory for P. Elias Calles over his opponent, Gov. Flores of Sonora. The vote in Agua Prieta was 250 for Calles and 21 for Flores.

Vera Cruz Police Strike. Vera Cruz, July 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Coincidentally with the presidential and congressional elections the policemen of Vera Cruz went on strike yesterday because of nonpayment of wages. Their places were taken by federal soldiers and the elections passed off in an orderly manner. Early returns indicate a majority for Gen. Flores.

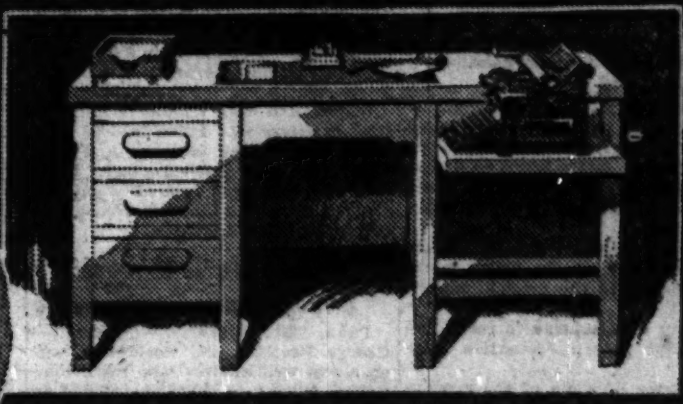

YOUNG DEAD IN BED. C. P. Kaler, 44, a dishwasher, was found dead in bed of heart disease in his home at 2255 Stearns avenue yesterday.

PARIS, July 7.—The United States went into the lead in the Olympic games in the second day of the competition at Colombes stadium today.

It was a day of unforgettable thrills and athletic feats.

The best of all came in the final of the 100 meter dash.

Legendre, the Frenchman, won by a margin of 1/100th of a second.

He finished in 15.8 seconds.

The American, Fred Loomis, finished in 15.9 seconds.

The race was a close one.

Legendre's record-breaking jump came unexpectedly in his third try in the pentathlon.

He tried a new kangaroo jump, which he had secreted.

He was perfecting and saving for the Olympics.

The jump practically assured America of first place in the broad jump.

There is little likelihood of the mark being passed.

Legendre broke had stood since 1921.

Legendre, third, won Sweden, fourth; Finland, fifth; and Morton Kester, University of Southern California, sixth.

These six were all that were left from a field of thirty-eight entrants in a grueling test in five events—broad jump, javelin, discus, 200 meter sprint, and 1,500 meter run.

Kester, who was in the lead, collapsed after the last event, the 1,500 meter run, which was run in twilight.

Yanks in 800 Meter.

Four Americans qualified in the 800 meter dash.

Richardson, Waters, Dodge, and Enck.

Stallard and Stowe of England, both won their heats in the first round.

Stallard is a not favorite of the home crowd.

With the crowd cheering whenever he passed the stands, Willie Ritt, who set a world's record in the 10,000 meter run yesterday, won his heat in the 800 meter dash.

The 3,000 meters steeplechase, with Rick, United States, second; Mike Devaney, Milwaukee A. C., was the only American to qualify in the event.

PARIS, July 7.—The United States went into the lead in the Olympic games in the second day of the competition at Colombes stadium today.

It was a day of unforgettable thrills and athletic feats.

The best of all came in the final of the 100 meter dash.

Legendre, the Frenchman, won by a margin of 1/100th of a second.

He finished in 15.8 seconds.

The American, Fred Loomis, finished in 15.9 seconds.

The race was a close one.

Legendre's record-breaking jump came unexpectedly in his third try in the pentathlon.

He tried a new kangaroo jump, which he had secreted.

He was perfecting and saving for the Olympics.

The jump practically assured America of first place in the broad jump.

There is little likelihood of the mark being passed.

Mrs. Lee Mida's 81 Is Low in Women's Qualifying Round

BY JOE DAVIS.

A superlative round of 81 gave Mrs. Lee Mida of the Butterfield Country club, the low score made in the Chicago Women's championship at the Park Ridge Country club yesterday.

She finished one stroke ahead of Mrs. Melvin Jones of Olympia Fields, who after being three shots behind at the turn, played a brilliant 39 coming home, three shots under par.

Both players cut well under par, which is 84.

Mrs. Mida's out was especially fine, as she opened with four birdies and scored others at the sixth and ninth holes, getting the rest in par.

Rein Bothers Some.

The course was in fine shape and the early players occupied the rain which some of the later starters encountered.

Mrs. F. C. Lett Jr. of Onondaga, the defending champion, and Mrs. Perry Plake of Aurora, former western champion, were close to the leaders with 44—45, one shot ahead of Miss Vera Gardner of Glen Oak.

Mrs. J. W. Taylor, the long driving Evanstonian, was the only other player to break 90.

Among the newcomers in the first flight were Mrs. Paul Chase, who has a handicap of 14, and Mrs. C. W. Blackwell of Calumet, 11.

LOCAL GOLF

BUDLONG WOODS and Evergreen both won their matches yesterday in the second of the series of golf events under the auspices of the Daily News Course association, and are tied with percentages of 1,000 each for the lead.

Budlong visited Oak Hills and collected 12 points against none for the home defenders.

Evergreen went to Harlem and garnered 7 points against the latter's 3.

Budlong's victory, won his head in the 3,000 meters steeplechase, with Rick, United States, second; Mike Devaney, Milwaukee A. C., was the only American to qualify in the event.

Others of the Garfield club defeated the executives of the Columbus Park club, 4 and 2, in a special challenge match. Co-famous has added for a round, which will be played Sunday, July 20, at Columbus park.

YANK SHOOTERS WIN OLYMPIC TRAP CROWN

PARIS, July 7.—[By Associated Press.]—The United States team in the clay pigeon trap shooting competition at Issy-les-Moulineaux today won first place, scoring 363, while Canada and Finland tied for second with 360.

They will shoot off the tie tomorrow.

Other final scores were:

Belgium and Sweden, 354 each; Austria, 347; Norway, 335; Great Britain, 330 each; and Czechoslovakia, 309.

At the conclusion of the shooting present system of classification whereby by six members each shoot for each team but the highest four scores only being recorded. This method was adopted in order to give teams which had only four members a better chance.

RUNOLATHE, AT 30 TO 1, ANNEXES HALSTED PURSE

Other Long Shots Are Hawthorne Victors.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old Charley Irwin of Chicago, who slipped the longest shot of the meeting over at Hawthorne yesterday when his 30 to 1 long shot stepped out and won the Halsted purse, the feature event of the day's racing.

The highly regarded mud runner, Louis Rubenstein, fresh from Kentucky, had been installed as the favorite by the large blue Monday crowd and for the first four furlongs it looked as if he was a sure winner. Runolathe had been running second most of the way and had dropped back into third position as they headed into the stretch.

Wins by Half Length. Then the western colt cut loose, flying past Rubenstein as he pleased, pursued by J. N. Camden's Bolivar Bond. They finished in just that order, the 30 to 1 shot being a half length to the good over Bolivar Bond at the wire and Rubenstein was back another half length in third position.

The long shot scored his triumph over a track that was sloppy and, to a degree, heavy. The erratic rider, Gertrude, was in the saddle just after the second race had been run the rain came down in torrents for thirty minutes and a drizzle continued for another half hour.

The downpour drove a big share of the 8,000 customers back under the stands and into the amphitheater and club house. But it did not seem to distract from the sport. There was long and continued cheering for a number of the winners, indicating there was more involved than just the pleasure of the sight of a well liked horse leading his field under the wire.

Other Long Shots Win. Outsiders continued to upset the talent, for aside from the long shot winner of the feature race, other winners quoted at good odds included Kindred in the second and the Chicago owned Black Grackle in the fifth.

Sanola, while at a slim price, was not as well liked as others when she won the Monroe purse, the secondary feature of the day.

Favorites are getting in the habit of winning the first race each day, and Just David was no exception yesterday. Jockey McDermott rushed him into a good early lead. Starbuck was a contender for a time, but he was out of it in the stretch run and Just David won as he pleased by eight lengths. Starbuck had it easy saving the place money, but Gamora had to come with a run in the show.

The storm was threatening as the second race was run. Hunter had been made the favorite, but he was never better than third. The race was made all the early pace, but Kindred's rush in the last furlong was not to be denied and he came under the wire a length in front.

Sanola Wins in Mud. The horses had no sooner been undressed than the downpour started. The track was sloppy when the field in the third race answered the bugle. Dr. Hickman was the favorite, but Sanola, who had been in the stretch in mid-stretch and came in first by two lengths.

Hickman saved second money, with Lady Fox running third. None of the others were dangerous. Despite the heavy rain and sloppy track, Sanola sailed around the 1 1/4 furlongs in the good time of 1:04.64.

Black Grackle's victory in the fifth was impressive and most Chicagoans seemed to have been let in on his chance at victory. They let loose with a mighty shout as he galloped under the wire in front. Jimson was second, and Kilt, a long priced good thing, third. Barn Dollar, the favorite, never got up close enough to look dangerous.

Haleskale's Odds Drop. Haleskale, another California offering, was in front all the way in the closing round. The horse had been quoted at 25 to 1 in the morning betting around Chicago yesterday, but was down to 3 and 4 to 1 as the post time speculation opened, and was a 7 to 5 favorite when the bugle sounded.

Proceeds, another Chicago horse, got up close enough to place, and Silence was third.

MARMADUKE VICTOR IN CIRCUIT FEATURE

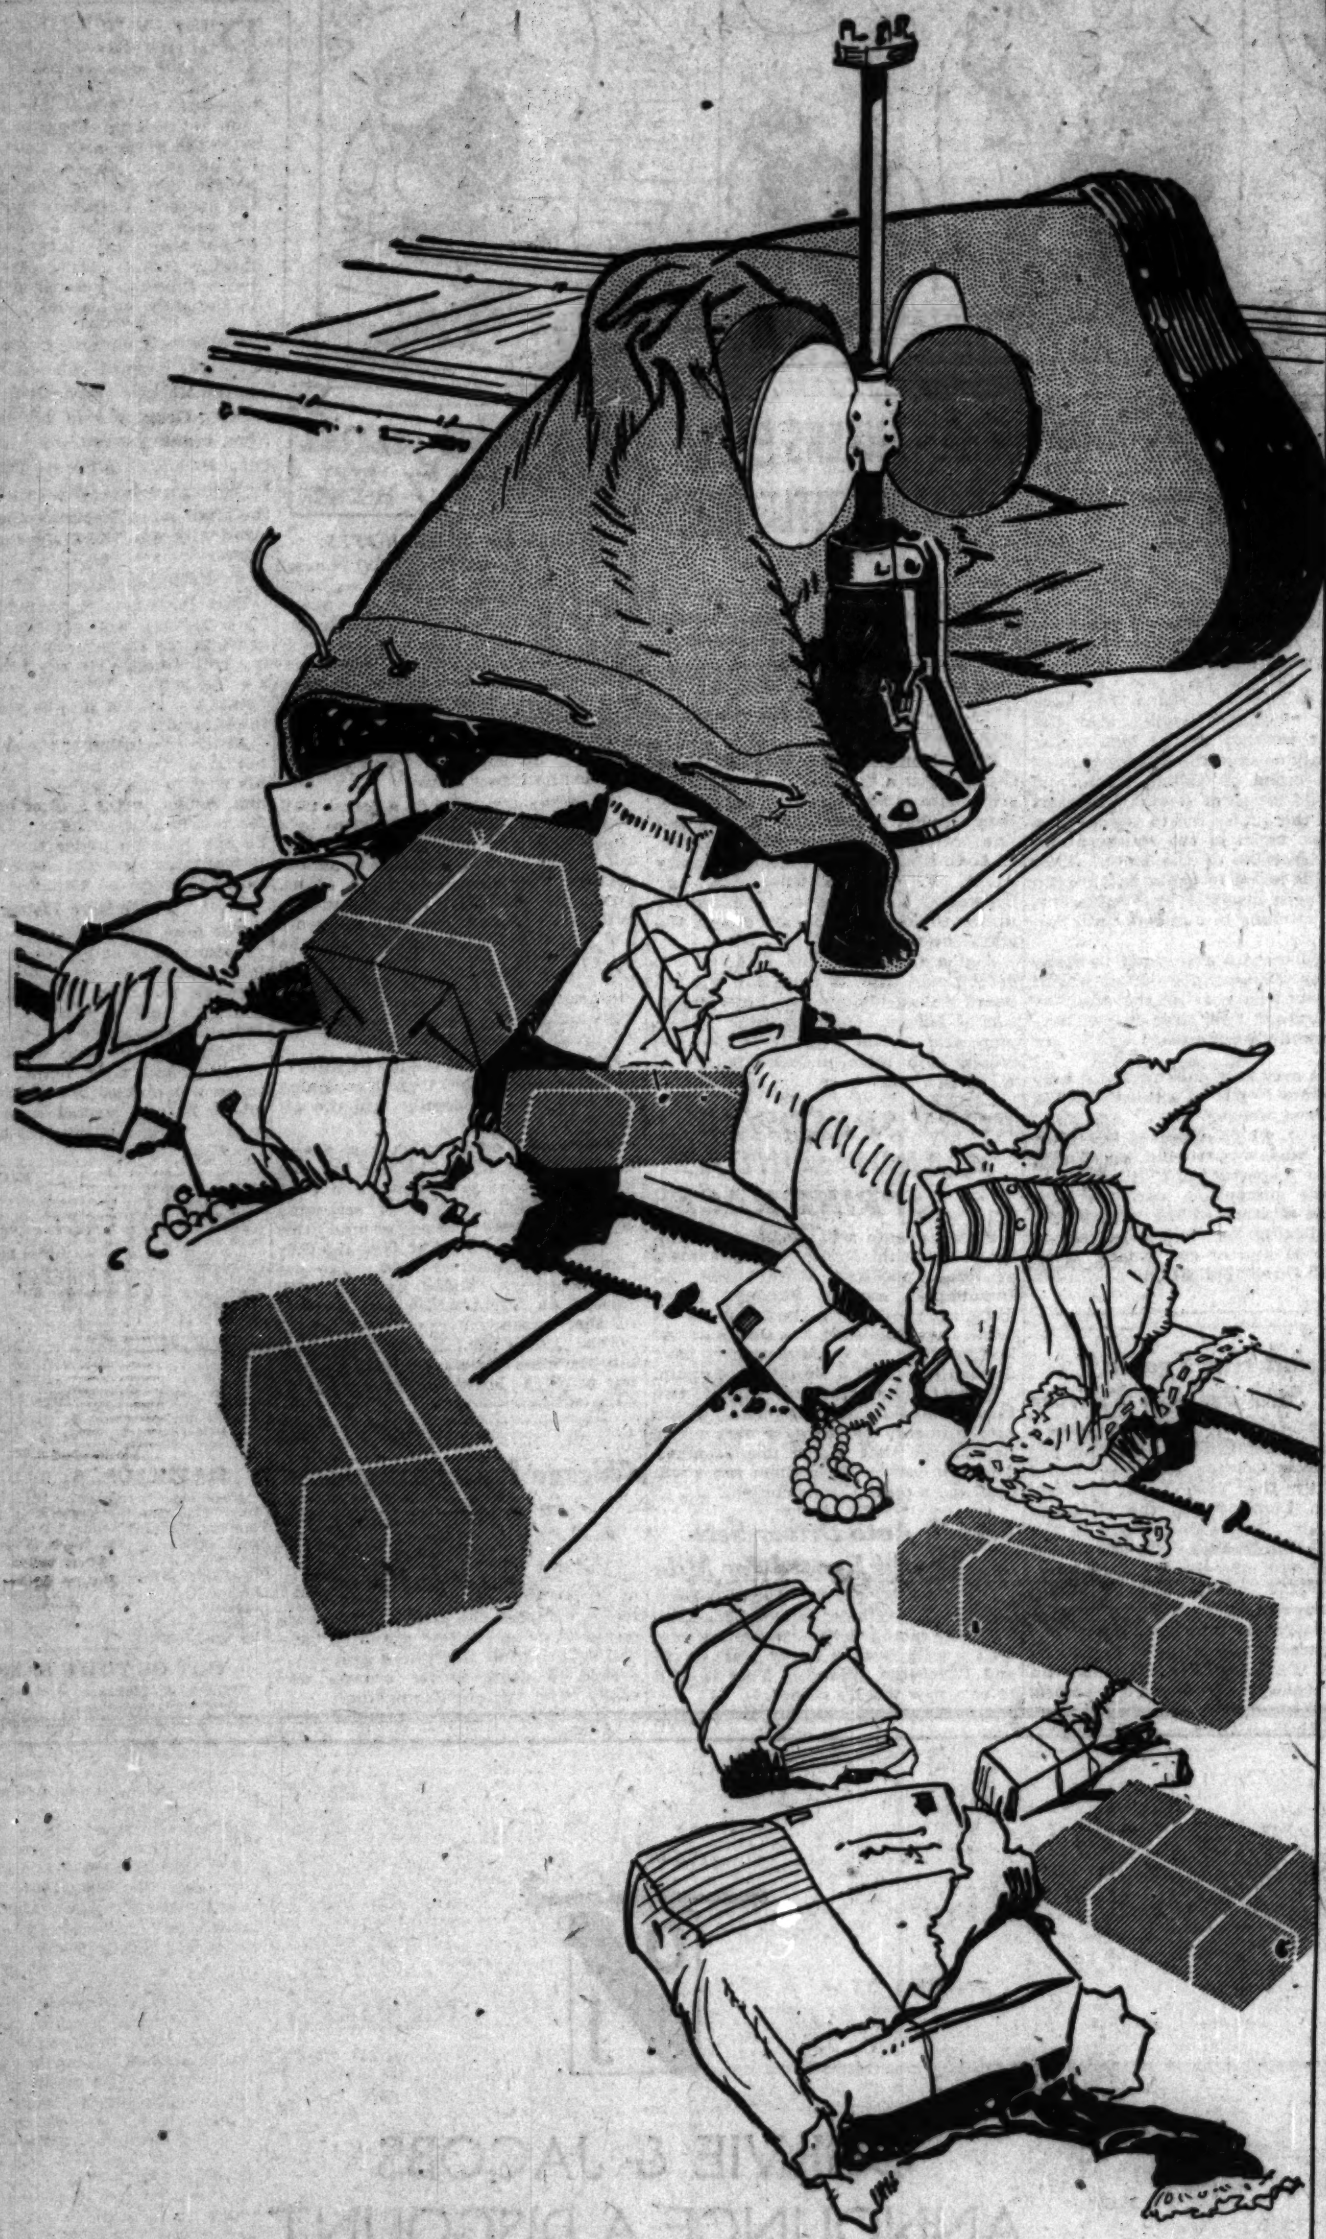

Columbus, O., July 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Marmaduke, driven by C. A. Valentine of Columbus, today won the Neil House $2,000 stake for 2:08 trotters, the feature event of the opening of the day's card of the Columbus midsummer Grand Circuit meeting.

Trumpet, the favorite in this event, won the second heat, and the third was so close between Trumpet and Marmaduke that the result was in doubt until the judges announced their decision.

Trumpet, Murphy, who was back of Trumpet, had still another favorite beaten. His Dixie Direct was made first choice in the 2:11 pace, but the best he could do was to finish second twice and third once, while the race was going straight heats to Miss Belwin.

Avoid Delivery Worries

MILLIONS of dollars worth of valuable merchandise is damaged every year on account of poor wrapping paper and paper bags. Every time a bundle breaks all the painstaking effort of manufacturing and of selling is destroyed.

This not only means replacing the merchandise, long troublesome delays and loss of profits but it often means a lost customer.

Backus Grey the new improved wrapping paper relieves delivery worries. Its strength, elasticity and harmonious color combine to make it the ideal paper for delivery purposes.

Backus Grey is fast superseding the old brown wrapping paper because of its superior merit. It comes in rolls or sheets, as grocer and other bags and as gummed tape.

Whenever you find a manufacturer or merchant using Backus Grey you may know that he is doing everything within his power to give a complete service. He will appreciate your words of approval.

Let us make a practical demonstration on your own merchandise. Wrapping paper and bags are such important items in your success that you should look into this matter at once.

After Stedding is sent to the London district prison in cell 37, who calls the Frenchman's name. The prisoner, restless and nervous, promises to marry him as soon as he has made the trip from Cape Town and promised to come to London.

"How long shall you be away?" he asked. "I shall have to be away for a long time, but I shall be back before our wedding. I have to come over now to get a passport for my last expedition. You will be happy for me, won't you?"

The splash of the water of the sea in his cell. He was alone. He had chosen to play the game of chance, and he had lost. He had chosen to play the game of chance, and he had lost. He had chosen to play the game of chance, and he had lost.

Emilia C. Dudleys to Pass Summer in Nook So Quiet It's Nameless

BY PANDORA.

On Thursday the friends of the Emilia C. Dudleys will have to bid them a fond farewell for the remainder of the summer, as that is the day scheduled for their departure from this busy, toiling scene. And that they may quite forget what a city thinks about, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley and their two daughters, Katharine and Helen, are deserting their apartment at 242 East Walton place, and flying to one of the most inconspicuous and also most beautiful spots of which they know. It is just north of Palmdale, N. Y., and as small as to be nameless. There, Mrs. Henry Harvey, the Dudleys' other daughter, and her husband have a haven for her Chicago family for the warm months.

The beauty of the place is vouched for by the artist in the midst, Miss Katharine Dudley, who has made a name for herself with her able brush and palette. One of her exquisite paintings, "Elvira," hangs now in the Art Institute here, a permanent adornment in that temple of skill and beauty. We may well look forward to the results Miss Dudley will bring home from a vacation spent along the gleaming, changing waters of the Hudson, with its myriad lucid reflections of banks and barques, clouds, and sunsets.

Aside from her artistic ability, Miss Dudley is an interesting person to talk and think about. She is one of those enviable mortals endowed with what we are pleased to term personality, and she has the French attitude towards fashion, which puts before the mere good looks. All of which things combine to make her one of the most striking figures wherever she happens to be—at least a jump ahead of her neighbors as far as the style of the moment is concerned, and an entertaining and worthy opponent in a combat of wits.

Day's News in Society

The Chicago club at Charlevoix, one of the most popular of the northern Michigan resorts, is now open, according to a correspondent in that region, and most of its adjacent cottages are occupied. Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Smith of 1350 North State street, who returned recently from a six months' tour in Europe, with their daughter, Miss Joan Smith, are in the cottage they have taken for the summer, while their two younger daughters, Betty and Anne, are at East Division. The Smiths' summer camp on Burt Lake, about 30 miles from Charlevoix. Other recent arrivals are: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. King of 28 Scott street, and Mrs. Robert Stuart of 4850 Woodlawn avenue, and Mrs. Adele H. Whitely of 1438 State parkway. Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot, Jr., of East Division street, has opened the Talbot summer residence at Charlevoix, where she has with her Miss Margaret and Miss Eleanor Talbot. Several Chicago families also are established at Harbor Point, Mich., for the next few months. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Chapin of 2430 Lakeview avenue, and their two sons; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Traft of 220 East Walton place, and Mrs. Ogden T. McClurg of 999 Lake Shore drive, who has with her mother, Mrs. Thomas E. Schwarz, Judge Kenneth M. Landis and his family have been spending some time at their place on Burt Lake near Petoskey.

Mrs. Russell Christie and her sister, Mrs. Richard B. Barnitz, and her small son, Edward Russell Barnitz, have gone to Harbor Point, where their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Russell of 18 East Goethe street, have a summer residence.

Mrs. Francis S. Peabody has returned from a stay of several months in California and is at the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan of 1150 Lake Shore drive are spending the summer at Harbor Point, Mich. Mrs. Charles A. Munroe, who recently moved from Chicago to St. Louis, has also taken a house at Harbor Point. Mr. Munroe makes frequent trips to St. Louis. Mrs. Spencer Logan has not yet made her plans for her annual visit with her sister, Mrs. K. K. Kille, to Long Island, but she will probably go east some time in August with Mr. Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick of Wheaton and their three sons will depart soon from Portland, Ore., where they have been for the last month, to spend the summer at Harbor Point, Mich. Mrs. George C. Venard of 1039 Rush street and her two sons have departed for Coburg, Canada, to spend the summer with Mrs. Venard's mother, Mrs. George W. Haskell, and her sister, Mrs. Georgina Haskell Sande.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. McNeill Jr. have departed for St. Barbara, where they will remain until Aug. 18, when they will return and go to Lake Forest.

Mrs. Percy Hollins of London is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Hallberg of the Belmont hotel, for the summer. A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, and Miss Gladys Spry of Evanston, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ball Jr. of Winnetka are spending the summer at Lac Du Flambeau in northern Wisconsin. Mrs. Erickson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes.

Observe Golden Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Foote, 2029 Irvington avenue, Evanston, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday. They have been residents of Evanston for fifty years. Mr. Foote is a former member of the Board of Trade.

Dinner for Mr. Dunne. The Very Rev. Mr. D. J. Dunne, new pastor of the Holy Cross church, 18th street and Maryland avenue, will be tendered a testimonial dinner by his new parishioners at the Hyde Park hotel Thursday evening.

Baseball Benefit to Aid Fund for Camp Algonquin

A benefit and entertainment will be held tonight in Northwest hall, 2403 West North avenue, by the Northwest Baseball association. William J. Healy, president of the sanitary district, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Judge Joseph L. McCarthy, Joseph F. Haas, and many others of the city's roster of prominent citizens are expected to attend. The affair is being staged under the direction of Stanley Davies and Edward Bosway. A collection for the benefit of Camp Algonquin, THIS TRIBUNE'S free summer camp for poor children, will be taken by Mr. Davies.

Now Wigs Cover Bobbed Locks of Paris Women

PARIS, July 7.—Smart society women are wearing wigs for evening wear. Fashionable gatherings at the theaters, restaurants, and dance places at night reveal practically no bobbed-heads or shaved necks. At yesterday's polo game at St. Cloud many women were seen removing their hats and coats in their motor cars and witnessing the game bareheaded. The same sight was seen at Olympic stadium today.

This Collar Has Two Ways of Behaving

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—If styles go on at this rate, the woman of midsummer and of early autumn is going to be not the dollar princess but the collar princess. A great deal of emphasis is, in fact, placed on this detail, and various new methods have been tried out in the achievement of variety.

Titled Husband of U. S. Girl Dangerously Ill

PARIS, July 7.—Lord Doune, who married Barbara Murray of New York here on July 21, is now dangerously ill in an English nursing home at Guidicca, outside of Venice, where the young couple were married. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Murray of New York canceled their passage to America and went to Venice yesterday, where the Earl and Countess Doune, the parents of the bridegroom, already are at the bedside of his son.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY. MRS. M. C. YOU HAVE BEEN ON a diet for some time and never lost a pound—with sixty pounds overweight! Now, what is your idea of a diet? There must be some reasonable rule for you to follow that you eat between meals and have some terrible bad secret food vice like a box of candy a day or bags of peanuts or such? Press up now. And then we will be able to do something about it! I find women have the most amazing ideas of diets. One who has come under my observation fared to eat four pieces of toast in the morning and that wasn't all she ate, either. When she reduced to three pieces she thought the martyred Christians had nothing on her. If you had always been plump and disorderly to outline, I should judge you a case for thyroid treatment. But having accumulated it in recent years, I know you can get that weight down if you have the right directions to follow. You better send me a stamped, addressed envelope for my reducing instructions.

MRS. G. SPINACH IS GOOD ON A reducing diet—on any diet, in fact, as it is one of the iron foods. It takes about 2 cups of cooked spinach to net 100 calories. String beans are recommended for their iron content, and cabbage, too. Celery, too, is rich in iron.

WHEN a single brand of coffee is known and enjoyed from coast to coast, there is a very definite reason; namely, merit! Chase & Sanborn's Coffee was launched in Boston in 1864. Its name and fame spread as rapidly as good news can.

It is not alone the fine flavor of this old favorite, but the equally important fact that the flavor is always the same, which makes new friends for Seal Brand, and holds them. Backed by sixty years' experience and packed in sealed tins. Try Seal Brand Coffee to-morrow.

A Study in Contrast.

The boss was away and I decided to darken my eyebrows and eyelashes. I had just finished one, making it dark and large in contrast to the other one, when a customer came into the office. With my eyes in this condition I had to wait on him, my embarrassment increasing more and more as he stood there staring. A. S.

Yes, Everything.

We were giving a play one night and I had one of the principal parts. I was a proud lady and was talking to a friend, telling him of my unhappiness. I had just finished saying, "Everything of mine has fallen; I am discouraged. What have I to live for?" When the great roar of pearls which hung around my neck suddenly broke and went rolling all over the stage. The audience began to titter while I, red faced and embarrassed, tried to have the stage quietly, but only succeeded in stumbling over a rug and falling headlong. The audience was now shouting with laughter. I rushed from the stage vowing that never again would I try to act. I haven't, either. G. B.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Nuts in Sponge Cake.

Especially when you can make a sponge cake that looks more like angel cake than a sponge with egg yolks, you will like that cake flavored with nuts. One-fourth cup of chopped nuts, walnuts, pecans, or the inexpensive filberts—is an excellent addition to this cake, plus about a fourth of a teaspoon or even less of almond flavor and about the same of lemon extract. Take the four egg sponge cake formula, which is so well adapted to a management that makes for extreme spiciness: Four eggs, four tablespoons of ice cold water, one cup of sifted sugar, one cup, or safer for the amateur, one cup and a quarter of flour, sifted several times with one level teaspoon of baking powder, a pinch of salt, nuts and extracts for flavor.

Separate the eggs, putting all the yolks in one bowl and two whites in a bowl and two in another. Beat two of the whites until stiff and beat in one-fourth of the sugar or a little more, or enough so that they are like an icing and cannot be beaten down. Add ice water to yolks and easily beat until they are of the lightest canary color, and beat the rest of the sugar into them.

Now combine the two beaten mixtures and get an exceedingly fluffy mass that it would take two quart measures almost to hold. Stir into this one-fourth cup chopped nuts, and flour gradually. Finally beat two remaining egg whites and fold into batter with a few drops of almond and lemon. Bake in tube pan for forty or fifty minutes in 350 degree oven. Flavor icing with a few drops each of almond and lemon extracts.

Fashionables.

If you wear a black suit, here is a tip: There is nothing cooler looking or smarter with it than a black and gray checked tie, or a black and silver checked cravat. It makes even a smarter effect than a tie of brightly colored stripes. The latter style has routine better with suits of color, but they are dark or light. However, some color, such as plum color or dark red, in plain effect, is good with black. Purple, though, should be avoided.

His Sartorial Sin.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—When you gaze upon the young man of today's illustration, let not your attention be stopped by the jaunty angle of his straw hat, which we will admit is at the precise angle of smartness demanded by the well dressed man, nor at the neat effect of the bold wing collar and the bow tie. But cast your eyes a little bit further down at the expanse of shirt front, and realize with horror that a sartorial sin has been committed, thus neutralizing all the charm of the above mentioned effects.

The crime in this—and you have doubtless guessed it, if you have considered just what that abundance of shirt front means—that there is no vest being worn. Now we have stated it and more of it that the well dressed man has an aversion to going waistcoatless. But there are some occasions in the country and with sport clothes at the club when a state of waistlessness is forgivable, and not to be too greatly concerned.

But when the neckwear of the outfit is a wing collar, then is the wrath of all sartorial gods due to fall on the offender. And so, if your constitution demands an air cooling system in the hot weather, and you insist upon leaving off the waistcoat, lay off the wing collar, and also the stiff turnover ones, and stick to the soft collars, thus making the negligence effect a complete one.

If you wear a black suit, here is a tip: There is nothing cooler looking or smarter with it than a black and gray checked tie, or a black and silver checked cravat. It makes even a smarter effect than a tie of brightly colored stripes. The latter style has routine better with suits of color, but they are dark or light. However, some color, such as plum color or dark red, in plain effect, is good with black. Purple, though, should be avoided.

The New York Times

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Today's markets, as far as securities were concerned, carried on in about the same fashion as in the preceding week. Stocks were quietly firm with most of the interest centered in the railroad and public utility shares and a few of the specialties, which have been singled out for speculative attention.

If the stock market was disturbed or disappointed over the latest turn in the news from the Democratic convention, there was no sign in the fluctuations. The outstanding speculative interest appears to be its quietly cheerful attitude toward the future, and this includes political as well as industrial and business considerations.

Rail and utility shares up.—The railroad and public utility groups again attracted attention because of their sharp gains. There were, however, numerous industrial issues which recorded marked gains but this was due more to the activity on the part of the pool operators rather than to any change in the general business situation.

Steel stocks, as a group, were either unchanged or only fractionally changed. Speculation in these stocks at present is all due to the attitude of the rank and file to await the publication of the steel corporation's unfilled tonnage statement on Thursday before making commitments in the market.

French Franc Recovers

The French franc got up to 5.15 cents from a low of 5.00 cents on Saturday, while Belgian bills recovered to 4.54 cents from 4.41 cents. The financial district was able to see in this advance and in the steadiness of sterling a reflection of the optimism evident over the approaching conference between Premier MacDonald and Premier Herriot.

HEDGING SALES AND RAINS TRIM
PRICE OF WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Increased hedging pressure against the movement of new wheat in the southwest combined with rains in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan took the bull edge off the market, and with selling by local and foreign longs prices eased off and closed about the bottom with net losses of 2 1/2%. Corn showed independent strength and gained 1 1/2% due to unfavorable crop reports, while oats were off 1/4% and rye down 1 1/2%.

Harvesting of the winter wheat crop is making rapid progress, and the movement in the southwest is increasing rapidly. Wichita, Kas., receiving 719 cars for the four days while Kansas City 637 cars. Minneapolis arrivals were swelled to 617 cars due to arrivals of new grain from Oklahoma. Minneapolis showed heaviness the greater part of the day and lost 2 1/2%.

Black Rust Northwest. Black rust has been found at several points in Minnesota, but the reports were not given to the trade generally. There were claims of fairly liberal export sales of hard winter at the gulf with the day's business fairly estimated at around 400,000 bu. while the demand for Manitoba was slow. Germany was said to have taken around 240,000 bu. Argentine now absent.

July here finished at $1.13 1/2, September at $1.13 1/2, December at $1.13 1/2, to $1.16, and May at $1.21 1/2. July here was 9 1/2c under Winnipeg at the last.

Trade Bullish on Corn. Many of the local traders spent the triple holiday in the country looking over the corn crop, and returned with decidedly bullish ideas. This class of buying was largely responsible for an upturn of around 2c from Thursday's finish, but the best features were not maintained due to realizing sales. July closed at 87 1/2c, September at 85 1/2c, December at 84 1/2c to 85 1/2c, and May at 85 1/2c.

There were liberal sales of cash corn to the east but no figures were given. Basis on spot was firmer with receipts 136 cars. Forecast indicated a continuation of relatively cool weather in some sections which helped along the advance at times.

Cash Oats Sell Lower. Demand for cash oats was not brisk and the basis on spot was off 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c.

at the last, despite reports of liberal sales at Buffalo. The market fluctuated rapidly and closed about the bottom with the easier tone in wheat a factor. Crop reports were decidedly spotted.

Exporters Buy Rye.

Exporters were good buyers of rye futures on the breaks, and there were confirmed reports from the east of a good business underway with Norway. The latter was said to be inquiring for five cargoes for August shipment. Sales of 50,000 bu were made to go to store. Houses with eastern connections were on the buying side of provisions and made a stronger market. Lard closed 6 1/2c, and bellies 2 1/2c higher while ribs were unchanged to 5c higher. CASH GRAIN NEWS

It is evident that all of the export business in wheat is not being reported. While it was hard to get totals, trade makes generally indicated that between 400,000 to 500,000 bu. of hard winter wheat was sold via the Gulf during the day. Trade in mail today was small.

Chicago handles sold 20,000 bu. of wheat, 125,000 bu. of corn, 150,000 bu. of oats, and 5,000 bu. of barley to the domestic trade, with 50,000 bu. of wheat to the export trade.

Demand for low grade cash wheat was rather slow and the basis on spot here was easier. Dark No. 1 northern spring sold at 100¢ per bu. No. 2 red was 95¢ per bu. and No. 3 red 10¢ per bu. lower.

Receipts were 77 cars. At Kansas City new hard winter was 10¢ lower, with red winter 10¢ lower. St. Louis was unchanged to 1¢ lower on hard and 10¢ higher on red, while at Omaha prices on hard were lower 10¢.

Shipments were after cash with prices 10¢ higher for No. 1 red, No. 2 red was 5¢ higher and No. 3 red 10¢ higher over July. Receipts were 130 cars. Outside markets were as much as 3¢ higher with St. Louis leading, with the exception of Kansas City, which quoted the market unchanged to 4¢ lower.

Cash oats declined 1¢ per bu., as compared with July, with No. 2 white 5¢ per bu. and No. 3 white 10¢ per bu. lower.

Nation Mourns with President and Mrs. Coolidge on Death of Their Youngest Son, Calvin Jr.

[Pacific and Atlantic Photo.]
"ALABAMA CASTS TWENTY-FOUR VOTES FOR UNDERWOOD." So shouted Gov. Woodward Brandon for the seventy-third time, whereupon the photographer snapped the shutter. (Story on page one.)

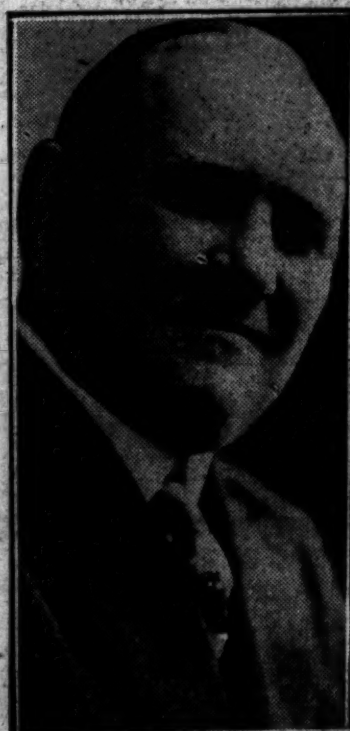

[Tribune Photo.]

ARGUING THE QUESTION OF THE PLATOON SYSTEM IN CHICAGO'S SCHOOLS. Victor Olander, labor leader, telling the school board what he thinks of the plan. Others, from left to right, front row: James Mullenbach, Edgar N. Greenebaum, and Mrs. Johanna Gregg. Second row: Supt. William McAndrew, William J. Bogan, Morgan G. Hogge, and Peter A. Mortenson. (Story on page fourteen.)

DIES A HERO. Corbin A. Dunham, who was drowned in Wisconsin rescuing two girls. (Story on page ten.)

BURNED TO DEATH. Lorraine Langon, who met death while playing with matches Sunday.

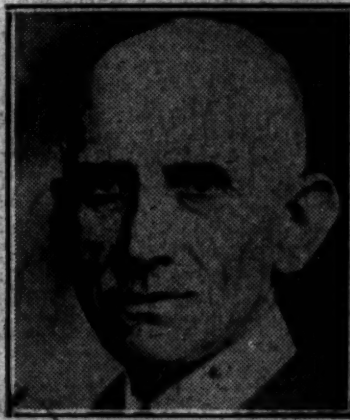

NEARLY LOST LIFE. Miss Alice Carroll, sister-in-law of Dunham, whom he saved.

ON ANXIOUS SEAT. Prohibition Agent Lyons, who is in danger of dismissal for alleged friendliness to brewers. (Tribune Photo.) (Story on page fourteen.)

FACED DEATH. Mary Sheffner, 10, who fell off a raft and would have drowned without Dunham's heroism.

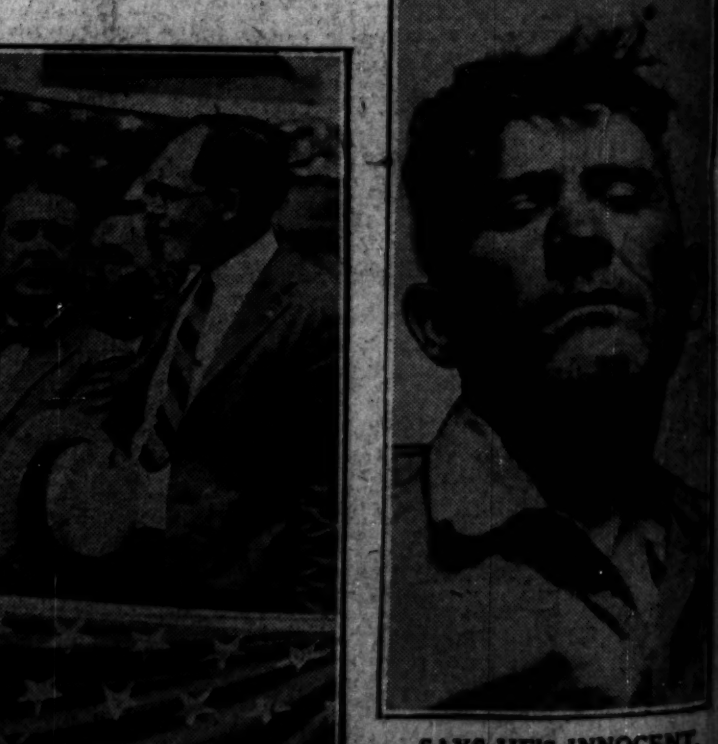

[Kesteven View Co. Photo.]
OFFERED FREE RENT. Charles A. Kolp of Canton, O., made the offer by the town of Lindentree, O.; he bought the town.

SUCCUMBS AFTER GAME BATTLE FOR LIFE. Calvin Coolidge Jr., youngest son of the President, who died of septic poisoning last night after five days' sickness. (United Photo.) (Story on page one.)

FUNERAL FOR COOLIDGE'S SON
AT 4 P. M. TODAYBurial Tomorrow
Plymouth, Vt.

BY DONALD EWING

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Coolidge Jr. tonight leaves his home for eternity in the east room of the White House, the flower basket casket resting on the same where Warren Harding's remains in state a year ago.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 there will be a simple and funeral service there and then by special train to Northampton, Mass., birthplace of the dead the President. A formal service will be held at Northampton the morning in the Edwards Congregational church—the boy's own place.

Burial in Vermont.
In the afternoon the body was taken to Plymouth, Vt., and laid in the family burial plot amid rugged hills where his forbears dwelt for 200 years. The grave beside that of his paternal mother.

Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, the president's Washington pastor, will officiate at the services here. Dr. Kenneth Wells, Calvin's pastor, will officiate at Northampton and Plymouth.

Tonight two machines stand guard the body's head and two others the feet. They are the last of official recognition—and the last for that purpose.

From the Mayflower, the boy's home, for whenever he of the presidential yacht he spent time chumming with them. Six or six marines from the Mayflower will be pallbearers to carry him to his last resting place.

The President forbade all in the of pompous honor to his dead remains. Public offices were usual. No government building were half masted. But around town, all other flags were lowered. Finally the chief executive came to lowering the White House flag.

But though all outside is quiet, in there is the utmost in honor reverence for this dead boy of 14 day long florist wagons backed White House with great wreaths flowers. Messengers boys came steady stream with words of condolence for the parents—some heads of nations. None were made public the President still feels that the should not be made a matter of display.

No Public Orientation.
So, there will be no cavalcade great funeral procession, no ostentation, tomorrow or Thursday. Coolidges will bury their dead—all. However, the city will pay with two minutes of silence of clock.

At the White House services will only the family and intimate personal and official friends. The cabinet members and their wives have been invited. Secretary Hughes is expected back from New York. Secretary has been invited to Boston, Chicago, and Hoover are too far away return. The other guests will be C. O. Sherrill, the President's aide; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, aide; J. Butler Wright, Maj. James H. White House physician; Mrs. Frank Stearns of Boston, C. O. "Slomp" and Edward T. presidential secretaries, and the of foreign missions with their wives.

Outside the east room window public will be permitted to gaze the lawn to hear what it may the windows. A quartet will scriptures and prayers will be a Mother Bears Up Bravely.

Mrs. Coolidge is bearing up bravely received no one today, remaining quietly in her room.

As for the President—he has not left the White House employed. His desk has piled high the his days with important business as morning he came to his office as he is always silent and solemn.

In a businesslike way he through various papers and he of official callers—government with pressing business spoke evenly and quietly for a more and then "suddenly," speaking to one official, his broke. He walked to a window. As he turned back again, tears from his eyes.

He went right about with the official as if nothing had happened.

Lunched with Mrs. Coolidge. At noon he lunched with Mrs. and when he returned to his an employee remarked the were very red—perhaps.
